Orange County Assured Of Share Of $7,000,000 Fund

$150,000 TO BE GRANTED SANTA ANA

An Additional $50,000 to Be Set Aside for Payment of State Militia
PERFECT ORGANIZATION
City Attorney and Mayor Return From Emergency Visit to State Capital

ORANGE COUNTY was assured of its share in the $7,000,000 relief fund set up by the government through the agency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the state of California today, when Mayor Paul Witmer and City Attorney Clyde Downing returned from Sacramento from a series of conferences.

An extra appropriation of $150,000 for rehabilitation work in the area stricken by the earthquake and an additional fund of $50,000 for the National Guard, has been assured by Governor James Rolph Jr., according to direct word from the governor brought here by Mayor Witmer.

While Mayor Witmer and Attorney Downing were in Sacramento yesterday, organization of a state emergency relief division was effected, with R. C. Banion of Santa Barbara named director of the division which will appropriate the money.

Yesterday afternoon A. W. McMillen, western representative of the R. F. C., telephoned Byron V. Curry, Orange county welfare director, that Orange county would have available $50,000 for relief work during April. From April on, allocations must be made by the month, with data submitted regarding needs of the county. The money is expected to arrive here within a few days.

When the funds arrive, a program of public improvement work will be started and the money will be paid out in wages. The nature of the work had not been definitely decided upon today, according to Curry, and must meet the approval of the R. F. C. representatives.

Welfare Director Curry had asked the R. F. C. for $137,500 a month for the next three months for alleviation of distress in the county.

The state legislature act to add a new section to the political code providing for the creation of a new division of the department of social welfare, to be known as the emergency relief division.

SECRETARY OF NAVY ASKS BIGGER FLEET

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(UP)—Secretary of Navy Swanson said today he wished to build the United States navy up to London treaty limits immediately, but that no construction program has yet been completed.

He said he had not discussed a building program thoroughly with President Roosevelt, and had not even had an opportunity to summon bureau chiefs in the navy department for consultation on such a plan.

The secretary said he would first have to determine how much money would be available for the navy before considering any form of construction—warships or aircraft.

FARM RELIEF BILL RUSHED IN COMMITTEE

Chairman of Senate Group Outlines Program and Urges Speed

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(UP)—The agriculture committee of both senate and house today began a study of President Roosevelt's sweeping farm relief program with a view to bringing it to the floor for action as quickly as possible.

Chairman Smith of the senate committee in outlining his program, stressed the need for speed. He said the farm aid bill would be brought up in the senate as early as possible next week.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace met with the senate committee during the morning to explain details of proposed operations under the bill. He was accompanied to the committee room by Dr. Mordcaai Ezekiel, his economic adviser.

Public hearing probably will be held on the farm bill, a deviation from the rapid-fire procedure which has characterized action on the three previous moves in the president's legislative program—bank reform, the economy bill and Volstead act modification.

Smith said, however, that the hearings would be limited strictly to accredited spokesmen for interests affected in the broad agricultural program laid down by the administration. These persons already have indicated approval.

Louis Taber, master of the national grange, called at the White House today and expressed gratification at the new measure.

Chairman Smith, declared that "time is the essence of this matter," said: "If agriculture is to receive any help this year it must come soon."

The presidential proposal would vest the secretary of agriculture, Wallace, and the new administration with substantially unchecked powers to regulate production of major farm crops and hence raise prices.

Until prices are restored to the 1929-31 level, farmers in return for reducing production would be paid direct cash bounties to make up at least part of the difference or would receive rent from the government on lands retired from production.

The huge funds necessary for these payments would be raised by taxes to be collected from millers, packers and others who

PHILIPPINE SOLONS TO VISIT AMERICA

MANILA, March 17.—(UP)—Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, and several members of the new economic commission will sail tomorrow for Italy, enroute to Washington where they will confer with President Roosevelt regarding their independence demands.

On the eve of his departure, Quezon asserted the mission was necessary to safeguard the islands' freedom but you must have means of maintaining and protecting it," he asserted. "As long as the earth is not inhabited by angels, you will need a whip to maintain your liberty."

BRITISH ARMS REDUCING PLAN IS FROWNED ON

MacDonald Prepares Today to Leave for Conference With Mussolini

GENEVA, March 17.—(UP)—Tired from his emotional appeal to the disarmament conference, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald prepared to leave today for his momentous conference with Premier Mussolini in Rome.

The same tense political situation hung over Europe as conference delegates hotly but unofficially discussed MacDonald's sweeping proposals. Though all realized that something would have to be done to relieve a situation brought about by the rise of the Nazis in Germany and the general suspicion of nations and groups of nations toward one another, MacDonald's proposals did not meet with widespread approval.

He urged a reduction of continental armies, a naval holiday until 1935 when a world naval conference would be held, abolition of military and naval aviation, and permission to Germany to double her armed forces to 200,000 men.

Officially the delegates commented pleasantly on the boldness of the British statesman's approach and the earnestness of his plea, but withheld more definite opinions until further detailed study required by so large a project.

Unofficially, disaffections with the plan were voiced. With the Hitlerites in aggressive mood, few Frenchmen or members of the little entente were prepared to accept a project for doubling the German forces. Unofficially, likewise, there was disgruntled comment on limitation of air forces, which have been built to substantial heights by continental powers. Some delegates pointed out that England, secure in the possession of the world's greatest navy, would gain rather than lose from a naval holiday.

Observers said the British statesman, although offering projects manifestly reducing the arms burden, had failed to afford the specific guarantees against aggression that France desired, had given no promise of security on the continent in exchange for the concessions all powers were asked to make.

Chancelleries of Europe will study the proposals in detail over the week-end, seeking bargaining points and bases for further discussion.

HOOVER ARRIVES IN CHICAGO EN ROUTE

CHICAGO, March 17.—(UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover came to Chicago today, a tired man but smiling as if with relief and tonight at his wife's residence, where he will remain until he is able to return to his private citizen again.

Hoover, his son Allan, and his secretary, detained from the Broadway Limited at the Englewood station. They were met by Arch W. Shaw, an old friend, and a squad of Chicago detectives.

Hoover smilingly evaded questions of public or political nature, said he would spend the day at Shaw's Winnetka home and would leave for California on the Overland Limited tomorrow.

"I have no definite plans for the future," he said.

President And Wife Married 28 Years Today

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(UP)—A tall young man, less than a year out of Harvard, was married to a slim, smiling girl in New York 28 years ago today. The wedding was the social event of the day in New York because President Theodore Roosevelt attended the ceremony.

Tonight in the White House President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will entertain at a gay dinner attended by relatives and a few close friends, in celebration of their 28th wedding anniversary.

QUAKE VICTIMS SUFFERING AS RAIN DESCENDS

Thousands in Long Beach Refuse to Go Back Into Homes During Night

LONG BEACH, March 17.—(UP)—Twenty thousand men, women and children shivered around tiny campfires today, threatened with colds and perhaps pneumonia, after a night of chilling rain which swept the earthquake stricken region of Southern California.

Despite efforts of Red Cross authorities, the rehabilitation committee and the National Guard to get their charges under cover, thousands suffered the greatest discomfort.

Repairs were rushed on small dwellings to make them sufficiently habitable to remove the possibility of widespread suffering. There were 25,000 persons still sleeping out of doors in Long Beach. Probably 5000 were under tents in city parks. Hundreds of others huddled under rudely constructed shelters of tarpaulin and sheet iron.

Several thousand more took

MME. LUPESCO SHOT AND SLIGHTLY HURT

LONDON, March 17.—(UP)—Mme. Magda Lupesco, friend of King Carol of Roumania, was wounded slightly by a member of an anti-Semitic students' society in Bucharest Wednesday, the Daily Express reported today in a dispatch from Paris.

The dispatch said that while Mme. Lupesco was on her way to the hairdressers, the student fired two revolver shots at her, wounding her in the right shoulder. Her assailant was overpowered but the incident was hushed up, the dispatch said.

CENTER OF QUAKE SAID TO BE 2 MILES OFF NEWPORT

PASADENA, March 17.—The epicenter, or "surface center," of the Long Beach earthquake, appears to have been about two miles west of Newport Beach, according to Dr. Harry O. Wood, in charge of the Carnegie Institution's central seismological laboratory.

Dr. Wood issued the following statement late today: "Seismological records have been received from five of the auxiliary stations associated with the Pasadena laboratory.

"Measurements of the time of arrival of the first motion in Pasadena and at these stations indicate the time of the shock at its origin as 5:54:08 p. m., Pacific standard time, on the 16th inst. "These measurements indicate

SOLONS AGREE ON WINE, BEER LEGISLATION

Indications Point to Bill Getting to President Early Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(UP)—Congressional leaders agreed today on a beer-wine bill program calculated to put the Volstead modification act in the White House Monday with prospects of its becoming effective on April 4.

"You can rest assured," said Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, "that the beer bill will be signed Monday."

The bill would become operative 15 days later. House Democratic leaders planned to send the bill to conference in an effort to restore the original provision for 3.2 per cent beer. The senate, in passing the measure last night, reduced the alcoholic content to 3.05 per cent and added wine.

Efforts of the house leaders to send the bill to conference were blocked temporarily by objection of Rep. Tarver, Dem., Ga., making it necessary to delay for the time being the process of adjusting differences between the house and senate versions of the bill.

It was planned to bring the measure before the house again later in the day. Speaker of the House Rainey said he favored retaining the alcoholic content at 3.2 per cent, and that he believed the house conferees would hold out for the percentage rather than the 3.05 written into the bill by the senate.

"Brewers have told me," he said, "that they always make beer under the maximum, so that if we had 3.05 as the limit the beer would actually be about 3 per cent alcohol."

Rainey added that he had no particular objection to the senate amendment legalizing 3.05 wine.

"It will do no harm and no good," he said. "It is an impossible thing. You can't make that kind of wine."

UNCOVER PLOT TO BOMB JAP MINISTER

SHANGHAI, March 17.—(UP)—An extensive bombing plot aimed at Japanese Minister Akira Ariyoshi was believed to have been uncovered today with the arrest of four Koreans and the seizure of two bombs and three pistols in a raid on a Hongkong restaurant.

Japanese consular police assisted French and Chinese authorities of the settlement in a widespread search after an apparent attempt was made to kill Ariyoshi. A bomb, which police believe was intended to destroy the minister, failed to explode after it was placed beside his residence.

H.L. Sherman Asks Why It Being Rushed

Brings Out What He Terms in "Nigger in Woodpile" in Speech

DEMANDING to know why the Orange county water bill could not be delayed for two years and what harm would result if it were delayed, H. L. Sherman "started something" at a meeting of representatives of Orange county communities here last night who gathered to discuss the bill.

Sherman, prominent Newport Beach engineer and citizen, said it would be a good idea to "bring things out in the open rather than heat around the bush."

His question brought a long period of silence until Paul Bailey, engineer and co-author of the bill, said he could not answer the question now because it would take considerable effort to determine just what prospective rights in water would be acquired during the next two years in the upper basin.

Sherman also brought out what he termed was a "nigger in the woodpile" by asking why a clause had been placed in the bill empowering directors of the district, who would first be appointed by the board of supervisors, to take on themselves all lawsuits in water cases with resultant high cost.

Mention of the internal lawsuits and suits directed against upper basin interests, brought into the open for the first time since the series of water meetings started, the status of the suits.

Roy Browning, engineer for the Irvine company, denied a statement made by E. E. Campbell, president of the Santa Ana Valley Basin Water Rights Protective association, which is involved in a water suit against the Irvine company and coast communities, that settlement of the suit was provided for in a stipulation now in an attorney's office. Irvine would not favor the formation of the water district if the suit is not settled.

Browning said, Irvine would like to have the district take over the suit against upper basin interests, Attorney Rutan said.

All through the meeting objections were offered by representatives of cities because they have

ROOSEVELT ECONOMY BILL IS DELAYED

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(UP)—Congress broke most of its speed records to pass the $500,000,000 economy bill, but the emergency measure can't become law until after senators have enjoyed a week-end of golf.

Delay is due to the fact that the house and senate adjourned last night before Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garner signed the measure. The law requires them to do this while the respective chambers are in session.

Rainey can sign it today. But the senate recessed until Monday and Garner cannot sign until then. As soon as he signs, the bill will go to the White House where President Roosevelt's signature will make it law.

ANDREW MELLON ON WAY TO NEW YORK

LONDON, March 17.—(UP)—Andrew Mellon, retiring ambassador to England, left London today for Southampton where he will sail for the United States on the S. S. Leviathan.

"I am looking forward to a nice long rest," he told newspapermen.

"I enjoyed my stay in London very much. It has been a very happy year."

FAIRBANKS JR. CHARGES SUIT IS BLACKMAIL

Young Actor Backed by Fitts as He Prepares to Defend Self in Court

LOS ANGELES, March 17.—(UP)—Characterizing an alienation of affections suit filed against him by Jorgen Dietz as "an open and shut case of blackmail," Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., young film actor, today laid plans to defend himself in court.

Dietz, 32-year-old chemical engineer, demanded $50,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Mrs. Soiveig Dietz, scenario writer. In a second action, he asked $20,000 more for false imprisonment, charging Fairbanks, Michael Levee, his manager, and District Attorney Byron Fitts conspired to deprive him of his liberty.

Joan Crawford, the actor's wife; Levee and Fitts joined with Fairbanks in terming the actions "attempts at extortion."

The alienation suit complained that young Fairbanks began showing attentions to Mrs. Dietz, who is in Copenhagen, early in 1931, that he "betrayed her on several occasions," and finally induced her to leave her home on April 15, 1932.

All through the meeting objections were offered by representatives of cities because they have

MEDFORD PUBLISHER HELD IN SLAYING

MEDFORD, Ore., March 17.—(UP)—Factional lines were tensely drawn here today with Llewellyn A. Banks, newspaper publisher, held on a first degree murder charge in the death of a constable whom he charged was a "tool" of his political enemies.

Leaders of the good government movement, inspired by banks until recently through the columns of his newspaper, the Medford Daily News, sought to rally 6000 members in his defense.

They wired and telephoned Washington for federal intervention to establish "peace" in Jackson county. They blamed George Julius Meier for failing to heed their pleas that the circuit judge, district attorney and other officials be ousted.

REHABILITATION OF SILVER ADVOCATED

PASADENA, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—Rehabilitation of silver to broaden the metallic base of the world's financial structure was advocated by John Hays Hammond, famous mining engineer, in an address before the California Institute of Technology last night.

He said reasonable stabilization of silver's value in relation to gold by means of an international agreement would be a vital step to recovery from the economic depression.

Hammond declared that "to maintain that the United States is still on the gold standard implies what Winston Churchill would call 'the risk of terminological inexactitude.'" All the great powers with the exception of France practically are off the gold standard, he added.

$5,000,000 IS PROVIDED IN MEASURE

Motion to Resubmit Legislation Back to Committee Loses 218 to 152

RED CROSS OBJECTS

Bill Now Goes Back to Senate for Approval of Extensive Amendments

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The House today passed the California earthquake relief bill. The measure, which provides for Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans totaling $5,000,000 for reconstruction in the damaged area was agreed to after a roll call vote of 218 to 152 defeated a motion to recommit it to committee.

The senate has passed a somewhat similar bill, but it must now either approve the extensive House amendments or send the bill to conference for compromise agreement.

House action today was taken in the face of opposition by a representative of the American Red Cross who appeared before committee hearings to lodge his protests.

Leaders in the congressional move were Senator McAdoo, Congressman Collins of Santa Ana and Burke of Long Beach, and Hamilton Cotton, Los Angeles and San Clemente capitalist. These same leaders declare they cannot understand the stand taken by the American Red Cross although it is identical with that taken by that organization at the time of the drought in the middle western states.

Action of the house despite the Red Cross protest was taken following receipt of many messages from cities in the stricken area, telling of the needs and asking immediate action.

Assurance of further prompt action on the measure is seen in the following telegram from Senator McAdoo which was received by J. F. Burke today:

"Response to telegram with many organization signatures regarding amendment to the R. F. C. act for rehabilitation, the amendment was reported out of appropriations committee of the house unanimously this morning and is now being discussed on the floor of the house of representatives. Senate adjourned until Monday, will press matter on Monday."

TORNADO RUINS TWO HOMES

MODESTO, Calif., March 17.—(UP)—Two homes in the Del Norte district near here, were wrecked today as result of a miniature tornado which swept the section late Thursday.

The home of C. C. Crowell near Livingston was picked up by the wind, turned around, and set down with such force that it was broken in pieces.

The roof of the W. H. Bates home on El Capitan highway was torn off, carried some distance, and left hanging on a power line.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 17.—(To the Editor of The Register.) The millennium (whatever that is) has arrived. On a Senate vote on economy, only thirteen Senators voted that they could run the country better than the President, among 'em Huey Long and Champ Clark.

California passed the racing bill. Maby Texas, the greatest horse raising State in the Union, will allow one to run for his oats. Beer is coming back, Greta Garbo is coming back, Sister Aimee is coming back. Senators' salaries cut 15 per cent, that's fair, movie salaries cut 50 per cent (not so hot), newspaper columnists' salaries cut (that's a crime), stage comedians' salaries cut (that ain't fair), but if Roosevelt says it is, why it's O.K.

SHOW DOWN ON WATER BILL IS BEING SOUGHT

not been provided with copies of the proposed bill and could not study the matter and were now expected to act quickly regarding a stand on the bill.

An important point was raised when Ross Shaffer, president of Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, who occupied the chair, said he did not see how the district could be formed if Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, members of the Metropolitan Water district, refused to come in the district.

Meeting Planned

As a result of the statement, arrangements will be made in the near future for a meeting of the city councils of the three cities, when definite action will be taken. Santa Ana has not changed its position in regard to the bill since the city council adopted a resolution opposing the bill as now proposed. Acting Mayor A. C. Hansen, Jr. of Santa Ana told the group. He pointed out that the city has obligated itself to a tremendous amount of money to bring water from the Colorado river.

"If we quit pumping water from the basin it will certainly relieve the water situation somewhat," he said. "The city of Santa Ana is willing to discuss any bill but if it is in the same form it will object to it. Santa Ana is interested in protecting Orange county but wants to get in on a fair basis."

Councilman E. G. Warner of Santa Ana declared that it is not fair to load another five-cent tax on a people already overburdened with taxes. Throughout the entire meeting a series of objections to the houring of the district and the sub-districts were made. Dr. Herman Hilmer, Newport Beach mayor, particularly objected to the inclusion of the coastal area in a $34,000,000 assessment district while the Irvine district was valued at but $7,000,000.

Asks Endorsement

Attorney Rutan asked that the bill be endorsed as to purpose and principal for flood control and protection of water rights in the county against outside encroachment with resultant adjudication of water rights in the upper Santa Ana river basin. "We can't keep working on a mass of detail until this endorsement is given," he said.

Sherman declared he could see no prospect of a bond issue being voted in the county for flood control for at least two years and therefore could see no reason why the bill should be placed before the state legislature in such a hurry. Economic conditions, for one thing, he said, preclude the possibility of voting bonds for flood control. He said, however, that cities should bear a fair share of the cost of protection of water rights in the county, although he did not believe the people would sanction the imposition of an additional five-cent tax now.

"There is a clause in the bill," Sherman said, "which says directors of the water district may take on themselves all law suits with the resultant cost. Now it is ascertained that there are two law suits hanging fire which are costly and which may prove embarrassing. I don't think the general public will look kindly on this five-cent tax to buy a dead horse. These law suits were not started by the people and were taken up ill advisedly to prevent the exportation of water to lands which are now awarded water under the bill. Why should people of this district, some of the defendants, pay for the costs?"

Refers To Suit

Sherman said he was referring to the law suit water interests brought against Newport, Laguna and intervening Irvine lands, and other suits which he had been told were filed in the upper basin as a result.

Browning said the suit brought by the basin protective association against Irvine and the coast territory had not been settled. "I do not see how it can be settled before the bill gets to the legislature. Irvine, I am sure, would not favor the district if the suit is not settled."

Attorney Rutan declared that the clause regarding suits had been placed in the bill because of the spreading of water in the upper Santa Ana basin. "Irvine," he said, "brought suit against upper basin interests to prevent spreading. Many here think spreading is not to the advantage of this territory. Water companies think it is an advantage to spread waters. The board of supervisors and others think it is not a good idea. Irvine would like to have the district take this suit over. However, this is up to the board of directors. It is not impossible for the directors to bring other suits but it is not probable."

Tustin Opposed

Shaffer said he believed Tustin is unalterably opposed to taking water from the depleted basin for lands not now using the water outside the basin. If directors of the district passed on a project with a bare majority, he said, the matter should be voted on by the people. "We also object," he asserted, "to certain boundaries of the districts. Tustin wants to stay out of internal suits but would unite with the county on suits against outside spreading or infringement on water rights."

Asked by Mayor Hilmer what determined the boundaries of the sub-districts, Shaffer said "stress of circumstances" had determined them. Shaffer pointed out that originally the bill segregated the districts according to supervisory districts with a clause that one vote would be allowed for each $100 assessed valuation. "Under this plan," he said, "Tustin would have the pleasure of electing the sole decision in electing the director would be with our friend of the large holdings in the fifth district, so I suggested that he be put in a district of his own so only this one district would be dominated and so Tustin could have influence. The boundaries should be equalized."

Rutan said the districts could be adjusted to equalize valuation. Browning suggested that committees from the cities be appointed to take a definite vote on whether or not they would come into the district and under what circumstances. "For years the cities have been using water from the basin and they should stand their just share of maintenance. If they are quitters let them stay out," Browning declared.

Mayor Hale of Fullerton objected to the use of the word "quitter," and pointed out that cities in the Metropolitan Water District have contracted for huge sums of money

BOND PLAN IS GIVEN BACKING IN BEACH CITY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 17.—

After Councilman M. B. McMillan had declared that a municipal corporation should have the same standing with the government as a national bank the Laguna Beach city council Wednesday went on record as favoring "the Milwaukee plan" for reduction of assessment costs on municipal improvements, by having the city deposit bonds for a particular improvement with the treasury department at Washington, for which the government would issue currency to carry out the work. The plan was put forward by a committee named by the municipal government of Milwaukee in the hope that it will be sanctioned by congress.

NO S. A. BUILDINGS CONDEMNED; SOME CLOSED FOR REPAIR

In spite of the fact that rumors are current that a number of buildings in Santa Ana have been condemned, such is not the case, according to a statement made today by Sam Preble, building inspector. "No buildings have been condemned in Santa Ana," he said. "There are a number that have been closed pending reconstruction work, and we have told the owners what has to be done before they can be opened, but there has been none condemned," he said.

Make Search For Missing Youth

Santa Ana police are today searching for LeRoy Haley, 22, Santa Ana youth, who according to a friend's report at the police station has not been seen since 2:30 p. m. last Friday, the day of the earthquake and who may have gone to Long Beach about that time.

Haley lived in the Hill building on East Fourth street. The friend, who made the report, is C. A. Cobb of 1067 West Fifth street. He said that Haley's parents had had no communication from him.

to obtain water from the Colorado river, the use of which in cities would help the basin. A. J. McFadden, walnut grower, called attention to the danger of floods and declared cities need flood control measures.

O. E. Steward, Anaheim's director on the Metropolitan Water District board of directors, said the sentiment in Anaheim favors the bill for protection and flood control features providing the details of the bill are satisfactory and it is just to the cities and the rest of the county.

Rutan said no details of the bill were fixed; that all details were subject to change.

refuge in 125 box cars rushed to the district by the Pacific Electric, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads.

The need of funds for relief work was stressed by Charles S. Henderson, rehabilitation director here, as he gazed over the soggy, sorry refugee camps.

President Roosevelt echoed the need for funds in a nation-wide appeal for the Red Cross.

The state legislature has made available $50,000 to be expended by the National Guard in feeding the hungry, but legal restrictions on another $150,000 voted by the state limits its expenditure to reconstruction work on highways.

Hope was seen in the promised action in the House of Representatives in Washington today in voting to appropriate $5,000,000 for relief purposes.

The total damage throughout the earthquake zone runs more than $80,000,000, of which a large proportion is to small homes whose owners already had them mortgaged to the limit.

Contracted structural engineers and architects joined in criticizing construction methods, while geologists bitterly censured failure of builders to heed known data of earth structure.

"Earthquakes do not stop at county lines," Harry Johnson, geologist, told members of the Los Angeles board of education, who are faced with more than $2,000,000 rebuilding work. In Long Beach, school damage exceeded $6,000,000. "Despite the fact officials have plenty of data on fault conditions, they have continued to erect buildings that will not withstand earthquakes," Johnson declared.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT CHARITY BALL

An unusually large attendance is expected tonight at the Orange County Elks Charity ball, to be held at the Valencia Ballroom on the highway between here and Anaheim. Plans have been made, according to Robert E. Walker, general chairman for the handling of several hundred couples.

Brick English and his orchestra will furnish the music and a number of state dignitaries of the Elks' lodge will add to the gala event. Elks throughout the county have been enthusiastic over the dance and for that reason the attendance is expected to surpass any in the past several years, according to Franklin G. West, past exalted ruler, who has been busy handling many of the plans.

NIGHT BRINGS LIGHT RAINS OVER COUNTY

Light, cooling rains fell in Santa Ana and other Orange county communities during the past 24 hours. The shower was the first precipitation in the county since February 24.

All over the county the rains were light, serving little purpose but for settling of dust. The rain was heaviest in the beach districts, Laguna Beach having received .14 of an inch, making a total of 10.36 inches for the season as compared with 16.21 inches at the same time last year.

In Santa Ana, .09 inches of rain fell, making the seasonal total 8.71 inches against 14.88 inches at this time last year. In Tustin, .06 inches of rain fell.

About .07 inches fell in the Orange area, and .06 inch was recorded in Anaheim. Traces of rain fell in the Placentia and Garden Grove areas.

CITY WATER TANK ESCAPES SHOCK DAMAGE

If the residents of the city living in close proximity of the city's big water tank near Fourteenth and Washington avenues heard any peculiar noises like handclaps emanating from the water tank during the Friday early quake, it was merely the structure clapping its hands at being able to survive such a shock and still hold up the tank.

This was the explanation of J. L. McBride, city engineer, today. The noise came from the sway braces striking together and sounded like handclapping. There were 3000 tons of water in the tank at the time, and by way of showing solid construction, McBride pointed out that even the paint around the steel plates at the base of the structure was not even cracked. The tank is 145 feet high.

agency relief division, and the appointment of a chief thereof, will be passed by the legislature on Monday, it was assured at a meeting of legislature leaders held in Sacramento yesterday which was attended by the Santa Ana officials.

The duty of the chief of the division, who was appointed yesterday, to provide relief to inhabitants of the state who by reason of unemployment or otherwise, are destitute or in necessitous circumstances. Such relief may be rendered by providing employment, distribution of funds or supplies, and by any other means approved by the chief of the division. The act is declared as urgency measure and will go into immediate effect if passed by the legislature.

Mayor Witmer and Attorney Downing were treated with great consideration by the governor during their stay in the capital, according to Mayor Witmer. The officials attended several meetings while in Sacramento. The governor expressed astonishment that Orange county had not yet received any of the $7,000,000 for relief, Mayor Witmer said.

Mayor Witmer expected to call a meeting this afternoon when the city council would meet to form a holding corporation in order to handle the funds which will come to the city. The corporation papers were approved by Secretary of State Jordan when the officials visited him yesterday, Mayor Witmer said.

process farm products before they reach the consumer. The taxes for the most part would be passed on to the consumer.

The benefits would apply to producers of all important farm commodities—wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, hogs, cattle, sheep and dairy products.

In its provisions for imposing processing levies and paying bounties in return for acreage curtailment, the bill follows the essentials of the domestic allotment plan adopted by the house last session. It embraces also the Smith cotton bill which President Hoover killed

PLAN TO AID DRUGGISTS IN STRICKEN AREA

For the purpose of aiding druggists throughout the county who suffered losses due to the recent earthquake, officers of the Southern California Druggists' association held a meeting at the Keller Drug company on West Fourth street this morning.

C. S. Kelley was appointed local representative of the organization and is to communicate with every druggist in the county today, advising them to make a complete inventory of their stocks, so that pressure can be brought to bear on eastern manufacturers in restoring the goods without cost.

Richard Lease, president of the Southern California Druggists' association, and Frank Mortensen, secretary, both of Los Angeles and W. M. Fulton, of Long Beach, field secretary, were among the officials present at the meeting today. Walter Goetz, Glendale, representative of the National association of Retail Druggists also was present.

It was pointed out that in all major disasters druggists were greatly aided by manufacturers in getting again established for business.

MAYORS EXTEND GRATITUDE TO OTHER CITIES

In the middle of a coast network radio broadcast last night the chief executives of the three Southern California cities hardest hit by last Friday's earthquake extended greetings to other cities and thanked them for the aid they offered during the crisis.

The message was as follows: "As chief executives of the cities of Long Beach, Compton and Santa Ana, representing the zone most damaged by the recent earthquake we send greetings from our people to the people of our sister communities on the Pacific coast. We thank you gratefully for the material aid already rendered us and for the many words of encouragement received."

"We want you to know the truth! A disaster has taken place. One hundred and twenty lives have been lost. Property destruction will probably exceed fifty million dollars. "But, do not be deceived by alarmists' reports. Our communities have not been wiped out. Our citizens are already courageously at work. Wreckage is being removed. Rebuilding plans are moving forward. With expected financial aid from federal and state sources added to our own capital and energy our communities will emerge stronger, sounder and more beautiful than before. While reconstruction is going on we need your encouragement and help. We will welcome your presence later to thank you and to show you the accomplished job."

Signed—Chas. S. Henderson, director of rehabilitation, Long Beach; A. E. Pickling, mayor of Long Beach; C. A. Dickson, mayor of Compton; and A. C. Hasenjaeger, acting mayor of Santa Ana.

DENIES GUILT AND DEMANDS TRIAL BY JURY

William Davidson plead not guilty to a statutory charge this morning when he was arraigned before Superior Judge James L. Allen. Davidson asked for and was granted one week in which to enter his plea.

Davidson waived his statutory rights to a trial within 30 days and demanded a jury trial which has been set for April 24. Mrs. Jane Gray, who pleaded guilty last week to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, in connection with the same case, appeared this morning for hearing on her application for probation. The hearing was continued for one week because of the illness of her attorney, A. P. Nelson.

Mrs. Gray was arrested several weeks ago when deputy sheriffs raided her resort at Seal Beach, known as the Tourist Hotel. A 16-year old girl was found in the hotel and the charges against the Gray woman and Davidson were filed.

Melvin Neff and Adrain Carabajol accused of burglarizing the shack of Juan Etchebarren on the Murphy Coyote lease, were arraigned this morning and entered pleas of guilty to the charge. They will be granted a hearing next Friday morning on their application for probation. Neff and Carabajol were scheduled for arraignment last Friday but stood upon their rights and were granted a delay of one week because of the banking holiday.

NEW QUARTERS FOR LIBRARY OPEN MONDAY

The circulation department of the Santa Ana public library will be opened in the store building formerly occupied by the Blauer store at 425 North Sycamore street, Monday, according to an announcement made yesterday. Hours will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The children's library is not to be opened at this time, but all books are to be returned just the same, it was announced. All in all, there are about 12,000 books in circulation at present, with many of the total number now overdue, according to the report made. Because of the present situation, there will be no fines made when the books are returned. Librarians urge that the books be brought in immediately.

For the time being, the reference library will not be accessible to the public. It was stated today that the library building has been pronounced perfectly safe. Broken plaster was the main resulting damage from the quake. Announcement will be made later as the date of reopening.

LITTLE DAMAGE TO SPURGEON BUILDING

One of the buildings in the city's business district which withstood the shock of the earthquake with practically no damage was the Spurgeon building, Fourth and Sycamore streets, according to results of a careful survey which was made, it was announced today by W. H. Spurgeon.

No foundational damage of any kind was found to exist, and the report on the condition of the building showed that no pipes of any kind were broken and that all elevators had been in constant service with no damage of any kind. Some plaster fell and some ornaments were loosened which will be replaced. The building was ready for use as soon as the police safety ban was lifted.

PIONEER PASSES

Mrs. Persis Ainsworth, pioneer resident of the county, passed away this morning at her home on East Chapman avenue, Orange, at the age of 96.

ESTIMATE COST OF CITY HALL REPAIRS AS NEARLY $10,000

The cost of repairing the Santa Ana city hall building will be in the neighborhood of $10,000, according to a quick estimate made by J. L. McBride, city engineer today.

So far the building has been braced and covering placed over the holes in the side of the building but the actual work of construction has not been started.

City officials pointed out that the building was inadequate for the needs of the various city departments and that even after the $10,000 was spent, the building would not house all the departments suitably.

In order to build some of her airports it was necessary for Siam to kill off tigers from the jungle land bordering the sites before natives would do any work.

MRS. PERSIS AINSWORTH IS CALLED TODAY

Mrs. Persis Ainsworth, pioneer resident of Orange, passed away this morning at her home at 414 East Chapman avenue, that city, at the age of 96 years. Funeral services are to be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Orange First Christian church with the Rev. Franklin H. Minck in charge.

Mrs. Ainsworth was born in La-Moyle, Vermont, September 10, 1836. She went with her parents to Illinois when she was seven years of age and lived at Buffalo Grove, two years later the family moving to Monticello, Jones county, Iowa. She was the daughter of James and Augusta Bartholomew and was married April 24, 1852, to Lewis Ainsworth, also a resident of Jones county, Iowa.

The day of her marriage the young bride started with her husband with horses and team for Jacksonville, Ore., and two years later they returned by the way of the Panama canal to Iowa. In all Mrs. Ainsworth made eight and a half trips across the continent by covered wagon, boat and train before settling in Orange in 1900. For a time the family lived in Weaver, Cal.

Mrs. Ainsworth was a member of the Orange First Christian church and of Gordon Granger post of the W. R. C., taking an active part in both until the past few years. She has been confined to her bed for about a year, her mind remaining clear until the last.

Well known throughout the state for her war activities, Mrs. Ainsworth compiled 14 books of newspaper clippings concerning the World war, several of which are now in the state library at Sacramento. She began making scrap books in 1877 and made one each year, completing two on the Spanish American war. She made 60 of the scrap books which are a record of the history of the nation based on newspaper reports.

Surviving Mrs. Ainsworth are one son, F. L. Ainsworth, of Orange, and the following grandchildren: Mrs. A. D. Burkett, Mrs. James Ragan, Mrs. Byron Fletcher, Jesse L. Ainsworth, Mrs. Walter Kogler and Miss Lewina Butler of Orange, Mrs. Newell Moore of Garden Grove, Mrs. Grover Gearhart of Los Angeles, Mrs. Carl Schmidt of San Fernando and Mrs. Lewina White of Glendale. Her husband, Lewis Ainsworth, passed away in Orange in 1914. One son, M. O. Ainsworth, died four years ago, and her daughter, Mrs. Ina Butler, some years ago. A number of great-grandchildren are included in the survivors. Funeral arrangements are being made by the C. W. Coffey funeral establishment.

Department of Building, Santa Ana, Calif.

Gentlemen: Among all the trials and tribulations that you are now having, I expect you would appreciate a word of approval from an owner of property.

When I was ordered to tear down the old hotel at Fruit and Minter, and started to rebuild the apartments on that property, I stewed and fretted and thought your building restrictions in the matter of sheathing and nailing were altogether unnecessary. Since our late heavy shocks I greatly appreciate your ordinances that forced me to build as I did.

My apartments at Fruit and Minter do not show even a crack—as a matter of fact I believe that they are so solid that you could turn them completely upside down without wrecking them.

This letter to you is in appreciation of the strictness that was forced on me some years ago.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) H. R. WOODILL,

NICHOLS STORE TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

"Save Dollars With Nichols," is the slogan of the Nichols' Dollar store which will be reemphasized beginning Saturday when this successful organization will celebrate its first anniversary with a sale planned to eclipse previous efforts to give outstanding value.

"Though this past year has been a trying one for older organizations, we have come through with flying colors," J. C. Nichols, president and general manager of the store, declared today in announcing the event.

At all times we have presented only merchandise of first quality and we have maintained in addition to our local buying organization, a most complete and competent New York affiliation and whenever we have put any item on our counters or shelves, we can pledge ourselves, our names and our knowledge, as evidence of its excellence.

"In this, our first anniversary, our customers will find thousands of reasonable things; lines and domestics, accessories and lingerie, men's furnishings, pajamas, hosiery, infants' and children's wear and every item is made to our own specifications and priced to meet specifications of thrifty buyers."

"We are affiliated with one of the biggest buying organizations in the market center of New York. This organization creates a tremendous purchasing power at an annual expenditure of more than $50,000,000. A huge staff of outstanding experts are in the market all the time, on the alert for the smart and the practical items. This reacts directly to keep the price lower on all merchandise we sell."

Officials of the organization include James Fisher, Santa Ana store manager; George A. Scott, New York representative; R. W. Myers, vice president and supervisor, and A. J. Lyon, buyer.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE TO BE HELD SUNDAY

A big thanksgiving service will be held in the First Christian church Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock, it was announced today by the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, minister of the church.

The entire membership of the church, with friends and citizens, were urged to be present. A number of business men and women are expected to speak briefly.

In connection with the service, the Rev. Buchanan made the following statement:

"Let us rejoice as church members and citizens over the thought of having life to invest in the tomorrow and the privilege of cooperating in the working out of a program that will quiet depression and stop the fear of disaster. We feel the citizenry of our city owes it to God Almighty and themselves to have a part in this Thanksgiving service, and therefore they are invited to unite with us in the service Sunday morning."

"The church building has been thoroughly inspected by the building department under the supervision of Sam Preble; then it was inspected by Jess Williams, one of the city's contractors, and the head of our building department. He went under the building, over the building and through the building and all pronounced it absolutely safe in every respect."

"There was only one thing shaken loose in the building and that was a discarded flue and it has been taken down. We make this statement so that no one should have the least bit of fear in entering the building. Our entire plant from Broadway to Birch has been under these inspections, thus we welcome everybody to this great service Sunday morning."

CITES BEATING IN DIVORCE COMPLAINT

Alleging extreme cruelty Mrs. Lulu Bender has filed suit in superior court seeking a divorce from her husband Earl V. Bender, cook at the Green Cat cafe. In addition to a divorce she is asking for all community property and $30 monthly for her support. She lists as community property 15 acres of land in New Mexico and an automobile.

She charged that she has been under a doctor's care since February 21, when she left her husband. She said that on that night he came home under the influence of liquor and when she asked him to remain at home he beat her so severely about the head that it was necessary for her to call a doctor.

Mrs. Bender also accused her husband of beating her in the presence of her two children by a former marriage and with holding a knife at her throat and threatening to kill her. On the same occasion, New Year's day, 1930, she alleged that Bender threw a knife at her daughter. She listed other alleged beatings administered by her husband.

Structures Built By S. A. Contractor Withstand Shocks

Jules Markel, Santa Ana building contractor, is being congratulated on two schools he built in Compton four years ago. The schools built by Markel are the only ones in that area that withstood the earthquake which almost razed the entire town of Compton.

Markel built the Compton avenue grammar school and the Lindbergh school in Compton four years ago. According to word received from that area, damage to the Compton avenue building was slight and as far as could be

Movie Star In Collision At Anaheim

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., motion picture star, paid a brief visit to Anaheim police headquarters yesterday with his chauffeur, C. E. Rozali Jr. Fairbanks reported that his automobile had collided with one driven by Miss Lillian Conner, of Fullerton, but that no one was injured. Police told him that it was not necessary to file a report on the accident. With obvious chagrin Police Sergeant Jim Piffer said this morning, "I talked with him and I didn't even recognize him."

ascertained without a thorough inspection, the Lindbergh school was undamaged.

Markel also built the elementary school at Laguna Beach which, according to reports here was undamaged by the quake.

INSPECTORS FOR COURT HOUSE ARE APPOINTED

Appointment of an official committee for inspection of the court house, damaged during the earthquake was announced this morning by Supervisor W. C. Jerome of the first district. The inspection will be made by Simon J. Fluor and Jules Markel, Santa Ana builders and Edward P. Mahl, county building inspector, and Sam Preble, city building inspector.

In an unofficial inspection it was found that the building could be repaired and made safe for occupancy at a minimum expenditure according to Jerome. The building, it is said, is undamaged up to the second floor. Above the second floor damages can be repaired, it was said, by tying in the walls to the side beams. It has been recommended unofficially that the cupola be removed from the top of the building.

It is expected that a thorough inspection of the building will be started within a short time by the committee appointed by Jerome and that repair work will get under way as soon as the committee of inspectors has completed a report and recommendations.

HORTON CARNIVAL HOUR BACK ON AIR

Back on the air again yesterday the Horton Carnival Hour offered 60 minutes of fun and entertainment for listeners over radio KREG. The building has been declared safe by inspectors and a satisfactory audience watched the radio show being broadcast by direct wire from the studio in Horton's building.

Miss Carver is acting as master of ceremonies during these presentations and is expecting to offer some outstanding programs next week.

It has been announced that the "Simmons Day" broadcast planned for tomorrow has been postponed for one week. Another feature program has been prepared to take its place.

NEW FEATURE ON DAILY BROADCAST

One of the "best bets" of KREG's daily program is being presented by Brick English and Gene Warren daily except Sunday from 6 to 6:15 p. m. They are offering favorite melodies as an evening hour broadcast.

Warren is from Los Angeles where he has entertained considerably over the radio. He has also been heard over eastern radios. Brick English needs no introduction or recommendation to local listeners as he is well known for his Valencia-Rendezvous Orchestra and for his part in other broadcasts over the local radio.

KREG NOTES

JUST THE THING: A Monthly Check for Life,

Bill: "Here, Jim, is just what I've been looking for—an annuity contract payable for life."

Jim: "What is an annuity contract, Bill?"

Bill: "Why, Jim, an annuity is a contract providing a guaranteed income for life."

HERE IS HOW IT WORKS—

"You see I have $12,000 in bonds yielding 5 per cent interest, that's only $600.00 a year, just $50.00 a month. These bonds mature next month, it will be up to me to find another investment equally as good, and at my age I cannot take any chances."

"I'm sixty-five, Jim, still in the harness, but who knows how long I can keep going. If health—a merger—a change in management and out I go. I need more monthly income, so I'm going to play safe and buy a $12,000 annuity that will pay me an income of $66.66 a month for life, that's $1,040.16 a year, Jim, almost 9 per cent, and guaranteed."

"If I live 12 years I get back more than I have paid, and if I don't, my wife and daughter will receive the difference between the total amount paid me and $12,000. You see it is impossible for me and my wife and daughter to receive less than I have paid the insurance company. I, on the other hand, receive much more than I have paid in, because the monthly income is guaranteed as long as I live."

"Yes, Jim, you can either get a single premium annuity, or you can purchase one on contract and make your deposits, annually or even monthly. You can have the income begin any time you wish."

ATTORNEY GENERAL

The death of Senator Howell of Nebraska may figure in the selection of an Attorney General. Arthur F. Mullen, Democratic National committeeman of Omaha, is making a fight for it. President Roosevelt wants to favor him in some way. He was Fowler's right-hand man at Chicago and later in the campaign in New York.

Governor Bryan of Nebraska may appoint Mr. Mullen to fill out Senator Howell's unexpired term. If Governor Bryan selects former Senator Gilbert H. Hitchcock of Omaha the cabinet position may fall to Mullen.

The friends of Huston Thompson, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, are out to land the attorney generalship for him. But Attorney General Homer Cummings, present incumbent, is under pressure to remain in the Department of Justice rather than go to the Philippines.

JIM REED

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri for Attorney General was at first discounted because of his age. Investigation showed him to be two years younger than the late Senator Walsh.

Reed is 72. Walsh was 74. Reed the same type of fighter that Walsh was.

FRANKFURTER

For Solicitor General Prof. Felix Frankfurter, of the Harvard Law School, is a probability. It is not believed that President Roosevelt will appoint a Solicitor General until he has definitely decided on the Attorney General. Since the Solicitor General is so important in the Department of Justice the courtesy of consulting the Attorney General is in order before the formal appointment is made. Who will fill in with Frankfurter may prove a major consideration.

ELDER STATEMEN

Two elder statesmen have a hand apiece on the economic steering wheel at the capitol. They are Senator Carter Glass of Virginia and Senator McAdoo of California.

The two former secretaries of the treasury are frequently seen together. McAdoo is certain to be increasingly in the spotlight as administration policies develop.

BREVITY

President Roosevelt's 72-word beer message to Congress seemed to clinch his record for writing brief messages.

"The President knows how to write them short," a Democrat observed enthusiastically, "and you don't have to take any time figuring out what he means."

His banking message, likewise very brief considering its importance, was dictated in a comparatively few minutes an hour before it was sent to Congress.

"And when F. D. dictates anything he makes very few changes afterwards," one of his associates remarked.

RADIO

Judging from congratulatory telegrams pouring in at the White House, also the volume of letters, President Roosevelt found his way into the hearts of his countrymen in his fourteen-minute radio address Sunday night.

The ring of sincerity in his voice seemed to be reassuring to the nation. It is believed he will go direct to the people frequently by means of radio and on a scale undreamed of by any of his predecessors.

SECRETARY

When President Roosevelt was roused from what he had expected would be his first sound sleep in a week to set Federal agencies in motion for California earthquake relief, Mrs. Roosevelt was quickly by his side.

Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, paid a high tribute to her helpfulness.

"Mrs. Roosevelt worked as a secretary would," Mr. Early explained. "She was on one telephone and I was on another."

HOPE

No more cheering message came to the President than that of Jim Ham Lewis when he returned from Chicago.

"Never have I seen such a change in so short a time," said Jim Ham, "from discouragement to encouragement, from depression to complete hope."

Senator Lewis went so far as to say that within two weeks, certainly not more than a month, there will be a greater revival of business than in the past five years.

There is a feeling that the banking bill will protect the banks," Senator Lewis said, "that the economy bill will reduce the taxes and that the unemployment bill will put people to work."

REPEAL

Opposition to the beer bill may be offered by the whiskey and wine people. Their argument is why should beer be given preference and they be obliged to wait until after repeal of the 15th amendment?

SATURDAY NIGHT

"Beer by Saturday Night" is the war-cry at the capitol. The beer bill will be rushed through both houses immediately following the economy bill.

BROADWAY

The Senate galleries during the consideration of the economy bill looked like a Broadway picture house at a holiday performance. They were packed to the doors, people standing in the aisles, and long cues waiting to get in.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

BANKS

Congressmen and others who have been worrying for fear the solution of the banking crisis meant that the New York bankers would come out of it with a stranglehold on the nation's financial system can put their minds at rest. Nothing could be further from the true prospects.

In fact the New York bankers have never in their history been so completely on the outside looking in. They hung around all day Sunday with bated breath to know who was going to be allowed to reopen. As a final gesture to show who was boss, the Federal Reserve withheld information on licenses even from the biggest banks until 10:19 Sunday evening.

There was poetic justice in the fact that the bankers—who have so often high-tailed newspapermen—had to get their information about Washington events in the last few days of the holiday from the reporters themselves.

Officers of the applying institutions were present in most cases but a few banks had sent messengers. The social equilibrium was restored when word was passed out from the sanctum that the precious slips would be handed to officers only.

The licenses were distributed the moment the President had finished speaking. There was no alphabetical sequence but those having friendly relations with the Federal Reserve bank were relieved of their anxieties earliest.

The only break the New York banks expect to get is an extension of branch banking privileges. That will be so hedged with stricter supervision there will be no chance for carefree exploitation.

The reports you hear about deposits exceeding withdrawals on the first day of New York's reopening are thoroughly authentic. Several leading banks had to open extra windows for receiving deposits. Withdrawals were about normal for a Monday.

Chances of further trouble are very slim. If it should arise the banks have an ace in the hole. They are forbidden to permit withdrawals for hoarding purposes—and it is left to the judgment of each individual bank as to what constitutes hoarding. Application of the ruling has been rare to date but it provides an effective emergency brake.

It would have been a boost to public confidence if the statements as of the close of business on March 17 which the New York authorities had to submit to get their license for reopening could have been published. One bank showed a liquidity of 87 per cent, if capital items are deducted, of 114 per cent. That bank was by no means an exception. The total amount of currency required and received by member banks in Greater New York from the Federal Reserve Bank on Monday morning was smaller than on ordinary payroll day (Thursday and Friday).

WRITE-OFFS

The best estimates here indicate that about $5,000,000,000 of the $42,000,000,000 total deposits in the nation will be tied up in banks that are not permitted to reopen.

About the only apprehension the banks have left is that the liquidation of the assets of unopened banks might depress the value of security holdings of sound banks. But treasury control over the conservators is expected to forestall any serious problems on this line.

INVESTIGATION

Insiders here anticipate resumption of the Senate investigation with two or three weeks. This will be done on Senate initiative—the President will probably neither ask for it nor block it. Banks—with one possible exception—will be left alone. The target will be some of the biggest figures in the financial world and a new angle of attack will be tried on the stock exchange. This bomb doesn't look like a dud.

STOCK EXCHANGE

Meanwhile exchange authorities continue to be ever so helpful. The latest move is to relax restrictions to enable members to give a boost to treasury financing.

The main consideration about reopening the Exchange from the government angle is said to be assurance that the market will not open with a sharp break in prices. Bootleg transactions have indicated a downward tendency. If necessary rigid minimum price restrictions will be clamped on.

TAX STRIKE

Speedy enactment of substantial economy measures is intended to head off a large-scale tax strike. Evidence has accumulated that sentiment for this sort of protest has grown in many sections of the country. It might assume annoying proportions. There is a definite belief in high places that drastic cuts in the cost of government will squelch the movement once and for all.

GOLD

In spite of last week's gold rush some of the biggest hoarders have not yet come across. Acting on legal advice they have decided to get tough about "deprivation of property without due process of law." Maybe some lawyers will get in bad with their clients before the government gets through.

LETTER TELLS OF ISLAND CHRISTMAS

ORANGE, March 17.—Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss of East Chapman avenue, has received a letter from Miss Carrie Bartlett, missionary to China, which was mailed December 27 and in which she tells of Christmas on Hailang island, where for a long time she was the only white person on the island. Miss Bartlett is well known in Orange.

Five dollars of American money in China has a purchasing power of $25 in Hailang, Miss Bartlett wrote. In her letter the missionary describes a shopping tour via rickshaws. Stories told at the Christmas program had an Oriental flavor. Several of these told the interesting history of ancient pagodas and of the Chinese dragon, Miss Bartlett said.

In observing Christmas the tree was combined with hundreds of firecrackers in the celebration, the missionary wrote, and at each place on the wooden table were placed red and green paper boats filled with watermelon seeds, without which no feast would be complete in China, Miss Bartlett said.

Christmas morning was greeted with carols and firecrackers, and the Chinese children gave a pageant, "The Dove of Peace."

WESTMINSTER, March 17.—Work on the Westminster Odd Fellows building began yesterday with local members on the job. The building, which dates back to 1896, is to be reduced to lumber and will be rebuilt into a modern, two-story lodge home, with members doing the work.

There was an old fireplace in the building which had not been in use for years which caused the greatest damage to the building, which was partially damaged by the first quake, with later temblors adding to the damage.

The Westminster Odd Fellows' association is owner of the building.

Make Repairs On Brick Building

WESTMINSTER, March 17.—Temporary repairs were made yesterday on the large Deeble-Chapman brick building at the southwest intersection of Seventeenth street and Huntington Beach boulevard, the south wing being badly damaged by the quake. The wall fell away from the uprights for one foot and some brick fell.

The large garage building across the street on Huntington Beach boulevard, operated by A. Didrickson, is open for business but will need extensive repairs which will be put in as soon as possible. The service station at this corner escaped serious damage.

There will be some repairs made at the Westminster county branch library building soon as one upright has shifted for a short distance. Some plastering work also will be necessary.

Mr. Young's son returned to his Chicago home by airplane yesterday, when it was believed that Mr. Young was out of danger and his recovery assured.

4 CANDIDATES SEEK 2 PLACES IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, March 17.—Four candidates are entered in the race for places on the board of trustees of the Fullerton Union High school district. There are two vacancies to fill.

With the filing of L. B. Steward yesterday the fourth candidate placed his hat in the ring. C. R. Allen is a candidate and S. James Tuffee, Placentia, and Albert Launer, Fullerton, are candidates for re-election.

Steward declared in filing that his platform is belief in maintenance of the junior college at the maximum attendance that can be accommodated, which will include the permission for outside the district students to register and attend school.

REPAIRS NEEDED ON BEACH SCHOOL

NEWPORT BEACH, March 17.—After a thorough inspection by state and county authorities, among whom were County School Superintendent, Ray Adkinson, and J. F. Van Ark, a representative from the California State Industrial Accident commission, it has been decided that the Newport Beach grammar school building will require several major repairs before it will be in condition to house the school children safely, according to a statement made yesterday by the city building inspector, A. M. Nelson.

No definite date has been set for the beginning of school again. Prof. H. C. Ensign, principal of the school, is at present spending several days on his ranch near Hanford awaiting a report from the building inspection. Several places, the Boy Scout cabin, the American Legion hut, and the old Balboa chapel are being considered as possible locations for housing the pupils for the remainder of the school term.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

SAN CLEMENTE, March 17.—Fire caused by an overheated chimney broke out in the wall of Travaglini's cafe at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The fire department quickly extinguished the blaze and little damage was done.

PLACENTIA, March 17.—Placentia Legion post cleared $50 from the emergency relief fund held in the clubhouse Wednesday night. The money was taken to Long Beach Thursday for use in relieving earthquake sufferers. Jamie's orchestra of Orange played, the musicians donating their services.

Those attending the regular dance Saturday night are urged to bring wood, food and clothing. It is planned to donate the proceeds of this dance to the quake victims.

BREA, March 17.—A social meeting of the guild of the Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. D. Neuls in her home on West Imperial highway.

Games were played, with Mrs. O. S. Close winning in the "Who's Who?" contest, Mrs. L. A. Hogue in the potato contest and Mrs. S. W. Verner and Mrs. L. H. Newell in the blindfolded effort at drawing the likeness of a pig. Mrs. Glenn Curtis favored with three numbers on the piano. At the close of the entertainment Mrs. Neuls served refreshments, the appointments of the tea table being in green and white. Needlework and conversation completed the afternoon. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. T. E. Moore, Mrs. A. A. Vorhees and Mrs. W. W. Hay.

Following a short business session the members spent a merry evening in playing jig-saw puzzles. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Virgil Kiger. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Taylor were named by the class as the welfare committee.

NEW BUILDING CODE EXPLAINED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, March 17.—To further the cause of inspection of buildings, LeRoy Lyon, supervisor of third district, said a new building code, with rigid inspection, an emergency police power, will be enforced during the present time to provide adequate protection of citizens.

He talked yesterday noon at the Fullerton chamber of commerce meeting, and declared that E. W. Muhl is chief inspector. Schools are to receive first place in inspection, he said, and work will be prompt and thorough.

The emergency building code is incorporating features adopted in Santa Barbara since that earthquake, Lyon said.

Funds are expected from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to pay for help in constructive county work by those now unemployed, he said.

As result of the convention of supervisors at Sacramento last week, the speaker said it appears that through the counties, more assistance will be given assistance from the gasoline tax funds.

STUDENTS FLOCK TO NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, March 17.—With most of Southern California's schools and colleges having made this week their "Easter vacation," Newport and Balboa are attracting many students and their friends who spend their annual spring vacation here, it was revealed today.

With all utilities running normally and no serious damage to living quarters caused by last Friday's quake, real estate men report increased activity.

Having this week and the week ended before and after Easter is quite satisfactory to the students, they say.

OPENS BEAUTY SHOP

COSTA MESA, March 17.—Ruth Newman, beauty shop operator, formerly located in the Berry barber shop, has now opened the Costa Mesa beauty shop on Newport road, across the railroad track from her former location.

The Porter Hair Shoppe of Eighteenth street now occupies the rear of the Berry barber shop.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Clara Callender, the 13-year-old golfing star, has set the whole Pacific coast agog...but not her sister...Clara's sister says the girl's golf game is two full years behind her publicity...Clara's ind. Eliot Callender, pro at the Monterey Peninsula club, says Clara is just a 13-year-old girl who has worked very hard on golf...and "she has been unusually fortunate in being able to deliver her best brand of golf in tournament play"...well, Jack Dempsey was lucky, too...he delivered his best brand of fighting when he was in the ring.

HOW ABOUT GOLF?

Among other stipulations in a ball player's contract is a regulation prohibiting the participation of the athlete in games or exhibitions of football, basketball "or other athletic sport." Judging from the vast number of pictures from the training camps showing ball players going about the business of golf, this regulation is flagrantly violated.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Among the other interesting clauses in the standard agreement between the baseball magnate and his employe is one which requires a player to conform his personal conduct to "standards of good citizenship and good sportsmanship." Citizens who have been without work since 1930 probably have their own ideas about ball players' citizenship when they read dispatches disclosing that certain athletes do not want to play this summer for paltry sums ranging from $5000 to $50,000. (Are you there, Babe?)

PHYSICAL INJURY

Players must submit to medical examination or treatment when ordered by the club. An athlete injured in the line of duty gets full pay. If he falls out of a hotel window or shows up with drowsy, he may be suspended and the contract may be terminated.

One of the war infidlers of last year, a young man who has come through several world series, is subject to attacks of epilepsy. He never has had an outbreak on the ball field, however.

TWO SUITS, $30
The club furnishes each player with two uniforms, for which the player must leave a deposit of $30. When he turns in his suits he gets back the $30. The club does not furnish shoes. But it provides proper board and lodging and traveling expenses when on the road.

Ball players on the road eat much better than ball players at home. Also most of them live better. A certain pitcher whose salary was $18,000 last year, dwelt in a third-rate hotel while the club was at home, but lived "first class" on the road.

FINES
One regulation gives the club the right to fine a player or suspend

San Diego Favorite At Invitational

15 SCHOOLS TO TAKE PART IN BEACH CLASSIC

Huntington Beach "carries on" tomorrow. Even an earthquake can't stop the game little seaside high school which will run off, "as advertised," the twelfth renewal of its Southern California Counties Invitational track meet. The annual prep classic has survived rain, windstorms and economic depressions, and while the earthquake was even more discouraging than these, hard-hit Huntington Beach says the show will go on as usual, starting at 1 p. m. Even the class of competition will be up to past standards, perhaps a notch above. The fact that this is vacation week at many cities has not prohibited an entry of approximately 300 athletes from 15 schools in five Southern California counties, some of which would not have participated except for vacations which canceled regular league assignments.

Four Dominate Meet
San Diego, Chaffey, Huntington Beach and Santa Ana have always dominated the affair, with the Saints last winning in 1930. Past winners:

- 1922—Santa Ana
- 1923—Huntington Beach
- 1924—Huntington Beach
- 1925—San Diego
- 1926—San Diego
- 1927—Santa Ana
- 1928—Santa Ana
- 1929—San Diego
- 1930—Santa Ana
- 1931—Chaffey
- 1932—San Diego

San Diego, which set a record by making 57 points last year, will defend its championship, and is favored to win a meet that will be much closer than it was in '32. A strong Chaffey team, Jesse Mortensen's well-balanced Riverside Poly group, and "Chuck" Webster's dangerous Santa Ana Saints are expected to provide San Diego spirited competition.

Only one record will be in danger—that for the 440—but good marks are predicted in almost every event. Long-striding Myrel Gillette of El Centro figures to beat his own meet mark of 51 flat for the quarter-mile. Gillette ran second to Rout of Jefferson in the California State meet last May after placing fourth in the Southern Cal. Jerry Burrus of Riverside, the one entrant with a chance to extend Gillette, has been shifted to the 850, where he is supposedly good for 2:03.

San Diego Favored
San Diego has two sprinters in Pollock and Rawak who should be one-two in 100 and 220. Miller Carmona has done close to 4:42. Hurdles Kary and De La Cruz are first place possibilities as are Vaulter Henry Smith with a record of 1:19 and Pollock who has broad-jumped 22 feet.

Chaffey's Bumstead, with a best of 15.8 in the highs, is conceded a good chance for two first places in the hurdles. Johnny Meek, weight man, will press Santa Ana's Strancke and Vaulter Gledner may beat San Diego's Smith.

Orange nominates a fine miler in Holman, who ran 4:46 last week. Anaheim's "Midnight Express," Gene Morris, has turned a 10.2 "hundred." "Rusty" Ledbetter of Brea-Olinda has shaved the shot 48:2. Fullerton offers a pair of dandy sprinters in Walt Raitt and Stan Allen, mainstays of a relay team that already has been clocked in 1:32.8. Brigham, a low hurdler, may trim Santa Ana's fleet Montgomery.

Meet records:
100 yard dash—9.8 seconds; Koenig, Huntington Beach, 1929.
220 yard dash—21.9 seconds; Koenig, Huntington Beach, 1930.
440 yard dash—51 seconds; Gillette, El Centro, 1932.
880 yard dash—2 minutes, 2.4 seconds; Carnahan, Riverside, 1931.
1 mile—4 minutes, 29.8 seconds; Breed, Santa Ana, 1927.
1200 yard dash—5:15.3 seconds; Petch, Chaffey, 1930.
220 yard low hurdles—24 seconds; Miller, San Diego, 1929.
Shot—put—51 feet, 6 inches; Gray, Chaffey, 1929.
Discus throw—137 feet, 7 inches; Steiner, Chaffey, 1928.
High jump—5 feet, 11 1/2 inches; Paul Jacques (Santa Ana) 1931.
Broad jump—22 feet, 7 3/4 inches; Velarde, Santa Ana, 1928.

GREGALACH FAVORED TO WIN AT AINTREE
LONDON, March 17.—(INS)—Gregalach, 1929 winner, ruled a 9 to 1 favorite today for the Grand National steeplechase, British turf classic to be run at Aintree a week from today. Thirty-three other jumpers are entered.

J. B. Snow's Delancey, quoted at 28 to 1, is the most highly-regarded of the American-owned entries.

Jim Corbett Trophies Go To His Club

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—(INS)—Trophies of the late "Gentleman Jim" Corbett will have a permanent place of honor at the Olympic club here, club heads said today. According to a letter received from Corbett's widow, it was his wish that his trophies be given to the club where he first learned boxing.

'SMART MONEY' INSTALLS JEY AS 3-1 CHOICE

By PAT ROBINSON
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 17.—(INS)—There are more strange fish in the fight racket than an angler could find in the Sargasso sea and not the least strange of these are the so-called wise boys who make the odds on fights.

These lads have installed Ben Jey, middleweight champion of the world—in New York state—a 3 to 1 choice to beat Vince Dundee over the 15-round route in Madison Square Garden tonight. It is expected Jey will be quoted as high as 5 to 1 at ringside.

This has caused the usual rumors about the "fix" being in on this one but you may season this with a whole bag of salt. The fight will be on the level if for no other reason than there is no good reason for it to be otherwise.

The "smart money" has been wrong before and may be again although this time there does seem some logic for installing Jey the favorite but no justification for making him such a top heavy one.

The odds are all out of line even when it is admitted that Dundee is slipping and Jey coming on but the Italian has not slipped so far nor the Jewish boy improved enough to warrant such a price.

SAVOLDI'S WIFE IN PLEA FOR DIVORCE
LOS ANGELES, March 17.—(INS)—Strange women who telephoned the Joe Savoldi home, in suits, Mrs. Savoldi had charged today in a suit to divorce her former Notre Dame football star, now a professional wrestler.

Savoldi told her marriage was a "mistake," she alleged.

Mrs. Savoldi said that under the terms of a property settlement she would receive the family automobile, $1000 cash, and $25 a week for one year.

They were married August 20, 1931, and separated last October.

PIPING 'EM OFF

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, March 17.—Chicago White Sox evened their spring record by defeating the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, but it took the rokie team to do it, 14 to 3. Leonard Koenekne hit two home runs, a double and a single.

Guy Bush was touched for four runs and eight hits in four innings, while Charlie Root permitted two runs in four hits in three frames. Manager Lew Fonseca of the Sox hit a home run, as did Riggs Stephenson.

WEST LOS ANGELES—The New York Giants finally beat the Holywood Stars yesterday, but it took the rokie team to do it, 14 to 3. Leonard Koenekne hit two home runs, a double and a single.

AVAILON—The regular administrator's daily thumping to the yanigans, 10 to 1, as the Los Angeles club continued its intra-camp series here yesterday. Guda hit homer in the sixth to score three runs.

SANTA BARBARA—The Seattle Indians will move here March 26 to finish their spring training. President Bill Klepper announced after surveying the park here.

OAKLAND—George Kelly, former star first baseman for the New York Giants, is working out at the key stone back for Oakland, his new club. Kelly looks somewhat out of place at second base but is rapidly becoming acclimated.

WOODLAND—Rain put another crimp in Manager Fred Hofmann's plans for an exhibition game yesterday. Weather permitting, the Mission boss planned to make up for lost time today with an extended workout. The Reds play Sacramento tomorrow and Sunday.

SANTA CRUZ—Frank Cox's freak homer produced the margin of victory for Seattle last night when the Indians nosed out San Francisco in an exhibition game, 4 to 3. Both teams collected nine runs, the Indians bunched their more effectively.

KIND CONNIE MACK CAN BE TOUGH WHEN HIS MEN LOSE MONEY AND BASEBALL GAMES

By BILL BRAUCHER
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 17.—Connie Mack has been variously described as the "lean and kindly leader of the A's," the soul of politeness and courtesy, a genial old gentleman with a suggestion of the cleric in his sparse, dignified figure.

Perhaps the descriptions are misleading. For Connie Mack is at heart a fighter with a good eye to business, too. And if you think he misses anything that goes on around his ball club, put in another nickel and guess again. Mr. Mack is nobody's Humpty Dumpty.

It is history that he wrecked a great ball club 18 years ago, a team that had won four pennants in five years. That team had lost four straight games in the world series of 1914 to the Boston Braves. But it was not because the boys dropped that series to Boston that Mack peddled them to other clubs, and began patiently to rebuild.

Mack wrecked his 1914 team because he fought with home divided. The threat of the Federal League, backed by a whole lot of money, loomed large. Raids were being made on both of the majors. Part of Mack's team was all for accepting fat offers from the outlaw organization. Others, who were all for sticking to Mack, did not speak to their mates who favored jumping.

Also, attendance was poor in 1914. The fire and fight of the maraudous team that ruled baseball in 1910, 1911 and 1913, had burned out. It was a team that went through the motions from memory. The fans soured.

Manager Mack faced the prospect of a depressing situation this year. The players who won pennants in 1929, 1930 and 1931 played last year, too, with the exception of Joe Moley. But there was something missing. It was not the spirited club that came from behind to overcome an 8-run lead and snatch the third game of the 1929 world series from the Cubs.

Fans rode the team's difference last year, and stayed away from the park in large numbers. Left field customers booed Al Simmons who a year before had been the mightiest of them all. Al booed them right back. Mack did not miss Al's rebuttal.

The club was losing money. Simmons still had the year of 1933 to serve, under a contract calling for $33,333.33 per season.

Mack went right back to 1915. He would lighten the overhead, provide new faces and make whatever changes he deemed necessary for harmony in 1933. He sold Simmons, Haas and Dykes to the White Sox, and in their places he will put rookies, just as he used rookies 18 years ago after selling his brilliant stars.

Lou Finney, from the Coast league, a great young competitor and something of a hitter, will roam where Simmons waddled on those woody ankles. Roger Cramer, who would have replaced Haas in center last year but for injuries, will now take the job. Big Ed Coleman, who gave great promise last year before shattering his leg, is to play in right, with the veteran "Bing" Miller in reserve.

U. S. F. Seeks Entrance To Coast Group

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—(INS)—University of San Francisco will apply for admission to the Pacific Coast conference basketball loop at the next meeting of conference officials, it was announced here today. St. Mary's and Santa Clara were understood to be seriously considering making application.

STRIPP, ANGRY HOLDOUT. OUISTS DODGERS' CAMP

By LES CONKLIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 17.—(INS)—Joe Stripp, holdout third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, stands a very good chance of becoming one of baseball's miracle men of 1933—the handful of players who will be paid as much or more money than they got last year.

Joe Gilleadeau, treasurer and champion holdout tamer of the Dodgers, whipped 19 other recalcitrants into line this winter by harping on the "economic conditions" theme and pointing out that Brooklyn lost $50,000 last year.

But Stripp, the last of the club's holdouts, refuses to take a $2000 cut and even wants a raise for his good work last season when he was the handy-andy of the infield and hit .303, second highest of the regulars who were with the club all year.

The two Joes fired chin and cut each other for three hours yesterday at Brooklyn's Miami base, but when the conference ended they were as far apart as a capitalist and a technocrat. So Stripp packed up and drove home to Orlando, 250 miles away, leaving Gilleadeau with a headache but without an A-1 third baseman.

For three reasons, Stripp likely will win his argument. He is a very determined young man, the club needs him like ham needs mustard, and he is lucky enough to live where he won't have to worry about hotel bills.

The Dodgers lost about $50,000 in 1932, and they're trying to shave approximately that sum off last year's payroll of about $250,000.

S. A. VIRGINIA GOLF CONTEST POSTPONED

Virginia is leading the division with 62 points, Mountain Meadows has 45, Santa Ana 41. Three more matches are scheduled.

Resume Racing At Agua Caliente Oval

AGUA CALIENTE, March 17.—(INS)—St. PATRICK's day was a happy one at the race track here. It was to re-open today after a 6-day layoff caused by the bank holidays. Seven races were scheduled.

One Year Ago Today: The Santa Ana Tennis club was organized with Gilmore Ward president and John Cross secretary. Chaffey defeated Orange for the Southern California prep basketball championship, 27-16. Ray Cartwright set a new Santa Ana high school record of 1:59 in the half-mile. Kim Pratt made a 10-1-in-one at the Santa Ana County club, Santa Ana jockey beat Brea-Olinda Hi in base-ball, 12-5.

Two Years Ago Today: Howard Paul, star freshman broad jumper at U. S. C., suffered a dislocated elbow in a meet with Jefferson. Harold Breeding, former Saint miler with a record of 4:23, will compete for the Los Angeles Athletic club this year. Ed Tomlin, holdout pitcher, joined the Portland Beavers in training here. Outfielder Ed Deloy survived a cut of Los Angeles club rookies. "Tex" Oliver's Saint track squad overwhelmed Al. Hamba, 38-22, and will compete in the Southern Counties Invitational at Huntington Beach next. Vic Williams beat "Red" Guyer in the 100-yard dash and the upset helped Compton jockey beat Santa Ana, 79-52. Williams won the 440 in 51.6.

Three Years Ago Today: Coach "Spud" Morrison took charge of spring football practice at Santa Ana. Hi. Don Williams, star halfback of the '21 team, has returned to school. Fullerton Hi beat Compton in track. Verne McDermott vaulted 11 feet and Gus Shaver of Covina high-jumped 5'8". Catcher Ted Coffman was restored to baseball eligibility at Santa Ana. San Diego nosed out the Saints in track, 60-53. Captain Harry Smith of the Hillers made 15 points.

ASK $2,000.000 FOR FRANCHISE OF BALL CLUB

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 17.—(INS)—Just in case you might be interestedly admitted within the organization the New York Giants, it was guardedly admitted within the organization today, although Charles A. Stoneham will now busy himself with denials, repudiations, recriminations and words.

However, they tell me that's his price and no trivial one altogether the known assets of the business being its franchise, slightly discolored at the seams; its good-will, slightly strained, and a manager who can sing baritone.

That's about all that is left of what was once the finest baseball property in America. Ten years ago, the sum of $5,000,000 was mentioned as its value in that offhand, frivolous manner in which money was mentioned ten years ago. Today, there remains the equity in franchise and players and the doubtful possibility of making something of both.

Terry, Ott, Hubbell Valuable
At that, there's a matter of $200,000 represented in three of the players, namely, Bill Terry, Jimmie Foxx and first baseman; Mel Ott, the outfielder, and Carl Hubbell, the pitcher. However, the rest of them run very rapidly for a man by the name of Sweeney.

Except for a brief interlude back in 1928, when the club was almost sold to "Tex" Ricard for $3,000,000, the repeated denials of sale and intention to sell by Mr. Stoneham have been reasonably consistent with the facts. He said he wasn't going to sell the club and the records bore him out. However, time can make a bedtime story teller out of the most voracious of men. The club was a money-maker then. It isn't now. In fact, neither Stoneham nor his associates figure to stand still under another beating like they took last year.

John McGraw, the ex-manager who was dismissed last year as curiously as though he was a faithful old bookkeeper with ten children and a second mortgage, wants to pull out altogether, they say. Anybody else can handle the franchise; he'd like to handle some money. So would Stoneham.

Seek to Void Agreement
That's the reason, according to the story from the inside, that he's trying to have the old Stoneham-McGraw-McQuade agreement declared illegal.

This agreement, made in an unguarded moment many years ago when their friendship was something to cherish and hold dear, says that one of them cannot sell his stock without the consent of the other two.

The whole idea was just darling, in fact, but as time went on, the principals began to wish that the agreement didn't. At the moment, they are wishing this very ardently.

For one thing, they are now going nowhere in ten seconds flat. For another, there is a sum of $107,000 on deposit at the Harri-man bank here. To further identify it, that's the bank that didn't re-open.

TILDEN PLAYS LAST CALIFORNIA MATCH

LOS ANGELES, March 17.—(UP)—Sax Elliott, forward, of Long Beach, will lead the University of Southern California basketball team next year. He was named at the annual dinner last night.

Confidence Is Returning

—And Market Prices Are Advancing!

THE MOST confirmed pessimist must admit that the bottom has been reached, that confidence has been established and that normal times are fast returning. Evidence is on every hand—reopening of the nation's banks with deposits several times more than withdrawals; anti-hoarding law, which will make deposits safer than they have ever been; advancing prices of commodities and farm products; a feeling almost universal that the president and congress are going to lead us out of our troubles. These are some of the elements that are establishing CONFIDENCE—the lack of which has caused most of the difficult times. A good slogan to adopt is this: STIFFEN UP YOUR BACKBONE, STICK OUT YOUR JAWBONE—AND GO TO IT!

School Damage Here Slight; Classes Resume Monday

REPAIRS MAKE ALL BUILDINGS SAFE FOR USE

Fifteen buildings in the Santa Ana city school system rode through the earthquake without damage. This information was released this morning by Business Manager George Newcom following an inspection of all school buildings and a survey of damage.

Repairs are being made and all schools will reopen Monday morning, it was announced today by Superintendent Frank Henderson.

The inspection was conducted by Frank Lansdown, Santa Ana architect, Jules Markel, Santa Ana builder, and Newcom. The inspection got under way Wednesday afternoon and was completed last night.

According to the survey, the Administration building at Tenth and Main streets, was the worst damaged of the entire system. The southeast corner of the building must be removed and rebuilt from the top of the first floor windows to and including the firewall. The firewall on the north and east sides of the building also have been ordered replaced. Considerable plaster also fell in this building.

In only four of the school buildings was it found necessary to order immediate repairs in order to safeguard the students when they return from their vacation. At the Roosevelt school the ornamental coping fell and other trims were loosened. The inspectors ordered all this loose trim removed and the front of the school rebuilt.

A portion of the east wall of the Franklin school bulged, causing the ceiling of the kindergarten room and the adjoining room to sag. These two rooms will be closed until repairs can be made. There were two vacant rooms in the building which will be placed into use for the remainder of the school year. One chimney also was ordered removed.

The first shock Friday evening shook approximately one-third of the plastering off the ceilings on the second floor of the junior college building. It will be necessary to remove the remaining plaster before the rooms can be occupied.

Newcom said this morning that in the majority of the school buildings where damage was done the loss consisted principally of plastering loosened. In such cases the four walls and ceiling of the room will be tested and the plaster removed if found dangerous. It is likely that the plastering will not be replaced until the schools close for the summer vacation.

According to Newcom's report

As Japanese Troops Advanced On Jehol

Marching into the face of a blizzard, Japanese troops are shown as they advanced from Chinchow toward the Jehol front at the onset of the campaign which wrested Chengteh, the capital of the province, from the Chinese.

OLD ISSUES OF SCRIP HELD BY SANTA ANA MAN

Just before the banking situation cleared up, and when there was talk of issuing scrip to be used during the emergency, residents of Santa Ana recalled scrip issued by the Los Angeles Clearing House association some quarter of a century ago.

W. A. Zimmerman, 920 West Myrtle street, kept a one-dollar scrip certificate issued by the clearing house, as a souvenir. The scrip, which was in common use in Orange county, was issued on November 5, 1907.

Zimmerman also has several old pieces of currency. One of them is a five-cent postage currency certificate issued in 1862, which has a picture of Jefferson on it. The certificate was redeemable in postage stamps. It is small, measuring two and a half by one and three-fourths inches.

He has a fractional currency bill issued to represent 10 cents in value. The currency, issued in 1874, was called a "greenback." The bill is three and a half by two inches. He has another piece of fractional currency of the denomination of 25 cents, which was issued in 1863 and which is slightly larger than the 10-cent bill.

Zimmerman said the clearing house scrip purchased everything anybody wanted and never dropped in value. They were used here, he recalled, for about 90 days actively.

An interesting relic of the days when Garfield ran for president on a sound money platform is in the possession of D. P. Maynard, 506 North Main street.

Maynard said that Garfield was running on a platform which upheld the economic value of sound currency while the Greenback party wanted inflation.

During the campaign a "fake" currency certificate was issued, making fun at the inflationists and designed to call attention to the danger of over-inflation. Such a certificate has been saved from that time to this by Maynard.

The bill was printed in 1870 and Maynard was in New Jersey when he first saw the political propaganda. The period followed the panic of 1870, Maynard said, "when times were so much harder than they are now that there is no comparison."

Music By Sister Of S. A. Woman to Be Put On Ether

Mrs. DeWitt Dudley of 532 South Parton street is following radio programs with particular zeal these days as a result of word recently received from her sister, Mildred Godfrey Hall of Hartford, Conn., that a composition of Mrs. Hall's is soon to be granted its premiere over a national network.

Mrs. Hall, a harpist of recognized ability, has composed a suite of songs entitled "Snow Lyrics," which will be sung by the Russian Cathedral choir from New York City, when the work is broadcast. Assisting Mrs. Hall with the writing of words and music was a cousin of Jascha Heifetz, the renowned violinist.

While no date has been set for the broadcast, Mrs. Dudley is momentarily awaiting word in this regard. Many Santa Ana friends of Mrs. Dudley likewise are anticipating the concert.

CONFERENCE TO DRAW H. S., J. C. JOURNALISTS

The Generator and El Don, official publications of Santa Ana High school and Junior college, will be represented at the University of Southern California's eleventh annual Newspaper day in Los Angeles tomorrow, according to Edgar M. Flowers, head of the journalism department and adviser for both papers.

High school delegates planning to attend with Flowers are Dan Maloney, editor; Larry Taylor, former editor; Jack Pegues and Dave Webb, sports editors.

The junior college will send William Kistinger, editor; James Torrens, managing editor; Miss Mahol Peoples, feature editor; and Orville Plumlee, sports editor.

One of the highlights of the program will be the awarding of the Crombie Allen and Trojan plaques for outstanding student publications judged by the U. S. C. journalism department. Justus F. Cramer, president of the National Editorial Association and publisher of the Orange Daily News, and Quentin Roger, editor of the Daily Trojan, will make the awards. Santa Ana's Generator won the Crombie Allen in 1931.

LEGIIONNAIRES OFFERED USE OF ORANGE HALL

The Santa Ana American Legion post was offered the use of the Orange Legion clubhouse until the Santa Ana Legion headquarters can be repaired, according to action taken at the meeting of the Orange post last night.

Commander W. M. Tipple commended Orange Legion members on their response to the emergency caused by the earthquake and stated that Friday night 80 men had been on patrol duty in Santa Ana working there until Saturday night and on Sunday 30 men were sent to Long Beach on patrol duty. Commander Tipple pointed out that the men, in many instances, left their own work to serve.

A meeting of Armistice day committee of the Orange post headed by Claude Potter, will be held Tuesday, it was announced, and meetings of the group will be held the first Tuesday of each month until the celebration. Letters have been sent asking each civic organization to take part in the parade and a number of acceptances have been received, Tipple stated.

A truck load of supplies is being collected by the Legion for sufferers in the Long Beach quake area and the truck will be sent to Long Beach Saturday night. It will carry food and other necessities. Donations for the load of food are being received at the Legion hall.

STEPS TAKEN TO GUARANTEE SAFE BUILDING

Possibility that steps may be taken at the present session of the legislature to obtain passage of laws to compel the construction of quake-proof buildings was intimated today in a statement issued by Col. Carlos W. Huntington, state registrar of contractors, which was received by Frederic Sanford, secretary of the Orange County Builders' Exchange.

Drastic steps to halt the invasion of the quake-stricken area by an army of crooked and irresponsible and incompetent contractors during the reconstruction periods were also ordered by Huntington, who is also director of the department of professional and vocational standards, Sanford said.

"With the reconstruction work already in the preliminary stages," Registrar Huntington said, "we are faced with the problem of preventing fraudulent construction, which might constitute a menace to public health and safety. Likewise, we are determined to prevent the incompetent or crooked contractor from robbing the people of the stricken area."

"It is apparent that much of the quake damage can be traced to improper construction of homes and business buildings during the past decade."

"Consequently, I plan to confer with members of the board of engineers, the state board of architectural examiners, the Los Angeles city department of building and safety, representatives of the California building congress and other building and construction groups in the immediate future with a view of formulating some regulations or laws which would enable the state to compel the construction of earthquake-proof structures, within reasonable bounds and insofar as it is humanly possible to do so."

"I firmly believe that some steps should be taken in this direction, and, if possible, legislation enacted at once."

"In the meantime, we will not tolerate the irresponsible or crooked contractor, who makes a practice of substituting inferior or cheaper materials than those paid for by the customer, or who abandons an uncompleted project after collecting a large portion of his fee, from invading the quake area. I am advised that quite a number of workers in the building industry have already become carpet-bag contractors and are attempting to reap a harvest at the expense of quake sufferers."

"The state contractor, act will be rigidly enforced, together with all other safety laws and regulations coming under our jurisdiction. Only regularly qualified and registered contractors will be allowed to operate in the stricken area."

SCHOOL BUSES IN COUNTY GET HIGH RATINGS

Safe transportation for California school children has been assured as the result of a campaign conducted by state authorities according to a report of the California highway patrol.

School buses operating in 54 counties have been declared 88 per cent safe by the patrol following a rigid inspection of 1684 motor vehicles used by school districts, the report said.

A total of 99 buses inspected in Orange county were found to have complied with 95 per cent of the strict safety regulations.

"The first complete inspection of the buses was made by the patrol last May," E. Raymond Cato, chief of the patrol, said. "At that time many of the mwere reported in a deplorable condition and the percentage of compliance with safety regulations was only 67 per cent."

"During the interim between the first and second inspections, special officers were assigned to each county to visit school boards and seek to induce them to bring their equipment up to standard. As a result the percentage of safety efficiency was increased 21 per cent."

CHURCH FILES SUIT ASKING FORECLOSURE

Foreclosure of a mortgage of $7000 against Orange county property, sale of the property and a deficiency judgment is sought in a suit filed in superior court here by the Whittier law firm of Wingert and Bewley on behalf of Calvary Baptist church. Burton Hampton and his wife, Mrs. Emma Hampton were named defendants in the action.

According to the complaint the Hamptons signed and delivered to William Milhous of Whittier, a promissory note for $7000 on October 21, 1929, and mortgaged Orange county property as security. Later the note and mortgage was assigned to Calvary Baptist church.

The suit is asking payment of $7000 with interest from October 21, 1931, $30 expended for a mortgage foreclosure guarantee, sale of the property and a deficiency judgment.

MAY TRANSFER TAX TITLES TO ORANGE COUNTY

Title to thousands of dollars worth of property, now held by the state as the result of delinquent tax sales, may be transferred to Orange county if recommendations of the senate fact finding committee are carried out by the state legislature, according to a report from Sacramento.

The committee, headed by Senator Davis F. Bush, Oakdale, believes control of the property should be given to the counties so that its disposal and return to the tax rolls would be facilitated.

"Approximately 25 per cent of the area of the state has returned to state ownership through tax sales," the report said. "This vast area was once on the tax roll, but because of the increased taxes and consequent delinquencies it has been removed from private ownership."

"It would seem more logical to have these lands sold to the counties in which they lie and placed under the administration of county officials. As the primary source of county income is taxes on common property, it is thought there would be greater incentive for the county to get this property back on the tax rolls with a resultant benefit to every interest concerned."

The committee further recommended that present arbitrary laws prescribing the method of sale be amended to reduce advertising costs and to allow greater latitude in disposing of the property.

"It would be better to have these lands sold to the county for a very nominal consideration and returned to the tax rolls than to continue dormant under the control of the state with no tax return," the report said.

HUMANE OFFICER SCORES CRUEL ACT

Officials of the Orange County Humane society today were trying to locate a person who tied a small dog in a sack and threw it, still alive, into a walnut orchard on East Washington street to die.

The dog was found after a report reached the ears of Charles D. Ocan, president of the society, and an investigation was launched. The dog had been injured badly, and had to be killed after being taken to the city pound.

Ocan said the society would prosecute if the persons could be found that left the dog securely tied in the sack to die. The animal was small, and of the wire-haired terrier type.

MUSICIAN'S WIFE FILES DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Gertrude Stock has filed suit in superior court seeking divorce from Oswald Stock alleging cruelty and charging that he waited till she and the children went to bed before commencing to practice on his trombone.

In addition to a decree of divorce, Mrs. Stock is asking custody of the couple's two children, $50 monthly for their support and all community property. Should the court not award her the community property which consists of two pieces of property near Anaheim, Mrs. Stock is asking that support for herself and children be made a lien against Stock's interest in the holding.

Mrs. Stock alleged that her husband lost his job in 1931 and has made no effort to secure another one. She alleged that he refused to work their home ranch and had turned down offers of jobs saying that he preferred to do orchestra work.

Picnics and Reunions

MICHIGAN

President E. E. Haring has called on all former Michigan residents in California to rally for the annual spring picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, all day Saturday, March 18. This is the big spring rally of the Wolverines and tourists from that state are especially invited. The county registers will be open all day and headquarters established so friends may meet. A splendid program of music and addresses will follow the picnic dinner hour. This will be the only spring picnic held by the Michigan association of Southern California.

Dinner Planned - By Church Group

ORANGE, March 17. - Dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7 o'clock tonight in the lower auditorium of the First Christian church, where members of the Woman's Service division will entertain with a St. Patrick's affair. All interested are invited to attend the event, proceeds from which will go to the treasury.

During the dinner period, there will be a program given under the direction of Mrs. Leon Des Larzes. Mrs. John Adams is president of the division.

The smallest fog particles have been measured at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was found that 25,000 of them could be placed on the head of a pin.

COAST ASSOCIATION MEETING POSTPONED

President Thos. Murphine of the Orange County Coast association, has postponed the regular monthly meeting of the coast group which had been planned for Costa Mesa March 21.

There will be no membership gathering during this month, but a special meet of the directors of the association will be held within a few days. According to President Murphine so many members are busy with personal affairs that he hesitates to call them from other duties.

With the organization of the many important committees completed and functioning the work of the association will be carried on without interruption. Announcement of the membership meet for the month of April will be made shortly.

Advised of Earthquake In Hawaii; Home From Holiday

Arrived in Honolulu in mid-February with one friend on the eight Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. S. A. Jones, 2327 Benton Way, sailed last Saturday noon wearing 12 leis, floral testimony to the wide acquaintance she had achieved during her holiday on Oahu.

Although some 5000 miles from the scene of last week's disaster, Mrs. Jones, in company with other Californians scattered along the circumference of the world, learned of the earthquake within a few hours of its occurrence. Dr. Edwin D. Kilbourne, former Santa Ana, whom Mrs. Jones discovered residing with his family in the hotel she occupied, was able to obtain a list of the Santa Ana dead within an hour after the radio earthquake broadcast, she said. The following day Mrs. Jones sailed for the coast.

Among interesting opportunities allowed Mrs. Jones during her Honolulu stay was the privilege of attending a session of the Territory of Hawaii legislature. Seated on a high throne chair in the former "throne room" of the old palace, where the House now convenes, Mrs. Jones watched this body of the legislature in action before moving into the "dining room" of the old palace to observe the workings of the Hawaiian senate. Drives to Oahu landmarks, concerts and bridge luncheons were intermittent pleasures during her sojourn.

Before leaving the Islands Mrs. Jones had the privilege of making contacts with Dr. and Mrs. Kilbourne and daughters, Mrs. John D. Breeden (Katherine Kilbourne) and Miss Janet Kilbourne, formerly of this city; Mr. and Mrs. George McIntyre, friends of Mrs. Willis E. Ward of 905 South Birch street, and Mr. and Mrs. McCleery, former Santa Anans.

Members of Santa Ana Club Reunited in Cole Residence

Organized in 1898 with a membership of 25, the G. G. G. club, now reduced to a dozen and holding only occasional reunions as compared with its early bi-weekly gatherings, met yesterday at the invitation of Mrs. Homer L. Cole and Mrs. Earl Glenn in the former's home at 1602 North Main street.

Today's St. Patrick holiday was allowed to dictate the party's theme, appointments being worked out effectively in table appointments and in details of the menu.

An exchange of reminiscences occupied the afternoon, members deriving special pleasure from a letter sent the club by Mrs. Herbert Claver of Boise, Ida., former resident of Santa Ana, previously identified with the society.

Participating in yesterday's reunion were Mesdames Fred Kelly, C. Warren Brakeman, Sallie Powell, Miss Jennie Swanner, Miss Lida Crookshank and the two hostesses, Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Cole, all of Santa Ana; Miss Charlotte Brown, Miss Celia Cotter and Mrs. Sam Shallenberger, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. Charles Rice of Pomona and Mrs. Jerome Faulkner of Fullerton.

Choral Club Prepares For May Musical Festival

In preparing for their musical festival to be given Friday, May 12, members of the Dorcas Choral club of the First Methodist church held a rehearsal yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Blackburn, 505 Cypress avenue. A surprise had been planned for the social time following, the hostess announcing that Mrs. H. E. Rothrock's home, 405 Bishop street, was to be setting for the remainder of the affair.

For the occasion, Mrs. Blackburn's home had been decorated with lovely bouquets of lavender and cream ranunculus, all from the gardens of Mrs. Harry Hayes, director of the club.

Adjourning to the Rothrock home, guests found all in readiness for a delightful tea hour. A pretty St. Patrick's theme was in evidence in all decorations, including tall green tapers and an attractive bouquet at the table from where dainty refreshments were dispensed. Mrs. Harry Hayes and Miss Ruth Oakes poured tea.

Birthday Tea Honoree Is Showered With Handkerchiefs

When Mrs. W. M. Wells drove to Newport Tuesday to call on Mrs. J. D. Watkins, president of Santa Ana Woman's club, she learned that Mrs. Watkins was to have a birthday anniversary on the following day, so she extended an impromptu invitation for her to come to Santa Ana Thursday and be a luncheon guest in the Wells home, 2031-2 West Tenth street.

Without informing her guest-to-be of her plans, Mrs. Wells then called together a little group of mutual friends to spend a pleasant afternoon, a surprise feature which provided several delightful hours yesterday. Spring flowers offered their gaiety and delicate colors to the scene, while St. Patrick appointments which distinguished the luncheon hour, were again in evidence throughout the afternoon, notably on a delicious birthday cake produced at the tea hour, and sparkling with pale green candles.

The guests conspired to shower Mrs. Watkins with pretty handkerchiefs, as a future reminder of her "earthquake" birthday anniversary. In the party, in addition to hostess and honoree, were Mrs. William Whitehead, Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. F. B. Hornbeak and Mrs. W. H. Kuhn.

Guests of Late Winter Leave for Topeka

Concluding a pleasant late winter stay here, Mrs. Frieda McOwen and her daughters, the Misses Mina Jane and Edna Louise McOwen, accompanied by Miss Ethel Regan, will leave Sunday morning for Topeka, Kan., where they will remain until the opening of their summer theatrical tour on May 22.

Mrs. McOwen and her daughters have been making their home at 818 North Baker street, coming to Santa Ana to be near the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson of 2335 Oakmont avenue. The two Misses McOwen have been attending the local high school, but since they were planning an early departure for Topeka and the school holiday occurred in advance of its regular date, they permitted the recent earthquake to speed their plans and will leave Sunday by automobile.

YOU and Your Friends

Gilbert Myers of Fresno, accompanied Miss Lillian Brandvig and her brother, M. R. Brandvig, from the northern city Wednesday, and the three were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Myers, 816 North Olive street. The Brandvigs continued to their home in Long Beach, and Gilbert Myers returned this morning to Fresno.

Mrs. E. G. Warner, 1516 Willis street, is in Pasadena at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Bernard, where another of her daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Warner Moore, and her children, of Long Beach, are staying. Lieutenant Moore is stationed with the fleet at San Pedro, and their home in Long Beach was badly damaged by Friday's earthquake, so Mrs. Moore and her aunt, Mrs. Nina Staples, and the two little children of the home, left at once for Pasadena.

Mrs. Mary A. Claycomb, 715 Spurgeon street, was reported today as showing some improvement from a serious illness from which she has been suffering the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren and daughter Mildred, returned yesterday to their home in Inglewood, having spent the past few days with Mr. Warren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren, 814 North Parton street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon Jr. and Mrs. Margaret Spurgeon of this city motored to Claremont one day this week to visit their daughter and granddaughter, Miss Sherwill Spurgeon, in attendance at Scripps college. The Santa Anans remained over night with Mrs. Spurgeon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Abbott, in Pomona.

Mrs. C. Warren Brakeman, 203 1/2 East Tenth street, enjoyed a visit yesterday from her niece, Mrs. Stanley Talbot (Marjorie Babo) of Long Beach, who returned last evening to continue her services with the Red Cross, now aiding in the emergency work at Long Beach.

Announcements

All Spanish war veterans are asked to report at the warehouse, 615 East Washington avenue, Tuesday night. The meeting has been called by G. E. Hubbard, adjutant.

First Book Review section members of Ebell society are to be entertained Tuesday afternoon, March 21, in the home of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria drive, with Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. W. D. Kring and Miss Preble Drake, sharing hostess responsibilities. Harry Smith (Miss Summers Smith) star of many Santa Ana Community plays, will present a review of the stage success, "Dinner at Eight." Section members who find it impossible to be present are asked to telephone one of the three hostesses.

A benefit dinner party scheduled to have been held tonight in the Richmond Avenue Methodist church, has been postponed until next Friday.

The Woman's Alliance of Unitarian church will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for a monthly affair in the church parlor.

Veteran Rebekahs of Orange Welcome Two New Members

Because the president of Orange Veteran Rebekahs, Mrs. Effie Winterrowd, was in Santa Ana receiving treatment for an injured arm, it was the duty of the vice president, Mrs. Abbie Gould, to preside over Tuesday's session of the organization in the home of Mrs. J. F. Campbell, West Chapman avenue.

The Campbell home was colorful with clusters of sweet-scented spring flowers. Amusing games were provided for entertainment, and the prize offered in the contests was won by Mrs. Edith Kneisel. To complete her hospitality Mrs. Campbell climaxed the afternoon with refreshments.

Two women were welcomed to membership, Mrs. Hattie Pulley who recently completed the requisite term of years of Rebekah membership to entitle her to the standing of a Veteran Rebekah, and Mrs. Blanche Bartlett who came to Orange from Colorado and who already was a member of the association.

Mrs. George Campbell was entertained as a guest, while members present included Mesdames J. F. Campbell, the hostess, Edith Kneisel, Abbie Gould, Katie Heitshusen, Nettie Todhunter, Elizabeth Meeks, Della Prince, Anna Christenson, Madge Christenson, Anna Crawford, Nina Dale, Anna Linnert, Jennie Brown, Flora Bowen, Lucy Richards, Eva Dews, and the two newcomers, Hattie Pulley and Blanche Bartlett.

The next meeting of the group will be April 4, in Orange I. O. O. F. hall with Mesdames Heitshusen, Linnert and Meeks as the hostesses.

Torosa Past Grands Enjoy Luncheon Meeting

Thursday's meeting of Past Noble Grands of Torosa Rebekah lodge, held in the home of Mrs. Fanny Lacy, 1016 West Third street, proved to be one of the most interesting which the group has held for some time.

After members had exchanged earthquake experiences, reminiscing proved of further enjoyment, as Mrs. Lacy displayed snapshots of well known Santa Anans taken several years ago.

This pleasant afternoon was preceded by a delicious covered dish luncheon. Painted daisies and stocks, sent in by Mrs. Lacy's daughter and various friends, were used in decorating.

Mrs. Ethel Brown, president, was in charge of a short business session.

Members sharing Mrs. Lacy's hospitality were Mesdames Ethel Brown, Mary E. Cowley, Maude

Mrs. Cole Entertains Homophonous Club In Her Home

A score or more members of the Homophonous club assembled Tuesday afternoon to enjoy the pleasant hospitality planned by Mrs. Homer L. Cole, whose home at 1602 North Main street, was the scene of the meeting.

Every friendly plan of the hostess was for the entertainment of her guests, who enjoyed first of all a series of beautiful solos sung by M. R. Green of the Sonotone corporation, with Mrs. Joe Lowell playing his accompaniments. Games and contests occupying the remainder of the afternoon, were on the general theme of St. Patrick's day, and Mrs. Cole and Miss Sleweke, a guest, took honors in the contests.

Concluding the enjoyable affair, the hostess served ice cream and cake to the pleasant decorative theme of the Irish holiday as expressed in candles, greenery and other decorations.

FOX THEATERS TO BE CLOSED UNTIL THOROUGHLY TESTED

"We will not open the Fox theaters in Santa Ana until we know ourselves that the Fox Broadway and the Fox West Coast theaters are absolutely safe. We are not taking anybody's word for it, but are finding out for ourselves," said Manager Les Fountain today.

Fountain declared that every foot of plaster in the two theaters would be carefully gone over and that while the inspectors had already declared the buildings safe, that no attempt would be made to open until a number of tests were made by the theater owners and operators themselves.

"When we tell the public it is safe to come to our shows, we are going to know ourselves that it is safe and that they can depend on what we say," he declared.

Among the local boats employed for the scenes was the "Corliss," owned and operated by H. B. Webster, and a dozen other power boats and motor sailers of various sizes, and one heavy tug boat from San Pedro.

Needle Club Elects; Gathers Articles For Children

Women of the Flying Needle club proceeded Wednesday with their plans for electing officers for the 1933 term. Mrs. F. W. Bergendorff was chosen president of the club, fellow officers selected being Mrs. Bernard Snee, vice president; Mrs. William Kintz, treasurer, and Mrs. Adolph Erickson, reporter. Mrs. Errol Barnes was named chairman of sewing.

The Needle club is collecting children's clothes for distribution among families requiring such articles. Santa Anas able to make such donations or knowing of needy children are invited to get in touch with one of the club members. Others present Wednesday were Mrs. Frank Brown and Miss Verena Bailey.

Talented Young Dance Artists to Assist In Benefit

Four gifted young Santa Ana girls, known as the "Putnam Dance Artists," are to assist on the Kleitich benefit program to be presented Saturday night in the auditorium of Laguna Beach high school. The four, the Misses Jeanne McKamy, Lucille Knowlton, Lora Buell and Talettha Dahl, have won a large following by their grace and technique in intricate dances.

Directed by Mrs. Putnam, they will appear in a series of numbers planned as pictures of unique beauty. A large frame has been constructed and each picture will be shown for a few moments before the principal figures step into the graceful figures of their dances.

The first of these will be on a Spanish theme, with rich colors and designs in the costumes. The four young dancers, principal figures in the picture, will be surrounded by beautifully gowned Spanish ladies, portrayed by young people of the Laguna Beach high school. Dances to follow, both solo and ensemble, will emphasize the Castilian theme.

For the "Spirit of the Ballet" to follow, the charming ballet figures will be presented to the accompaniment of "Sweet Mystery of Life" and a Faust ballet. "Rubbies" will show the four graceful young dancers in Grecian gowns, posed with the bright, bubbles of balloons prior to the spirited dance to "Moon Path," a Grecian study. This number will include among other solo and ensemble dances, "Liebestraume" by Talettha Dahl.

Two amusing comedy dances will be included as a bit of lightness, and like other numbers will have Mrs. L. L. Buell as accompanist, while some of the numbers will be to orchestral accompaniment, with M. R. Holloway of Laguna Beach, directing the orchestra.

Musical numbers of the evening will include also the piano program by Maurice Zam, noted concert pianist who is spending the early spring months in Santa Ana, and who recently gave the second program on the Orange County Civic Music association concert course; classic dances by LeNora Tuttle, Los Angeles danseuse; dramatic scenes from "The Other Wise Man," directed by Wayne Moore, Laguna Beach Players director; tableaux designed and directed by Mrs. Roy M. Ropp and Charles Gilmore; orchestra selections directed by Mr. Holloway, and various other artistic numbers.

Eat and Grow Slim LUNCHEON

Plate of all-vegetable soup
One-egg omelette with
2 slices crisp bacon
1 sliced tomato
1 slice swisschach
1 teaspoon butter
Pot of tea, no cream or sugar.
Calory total, 335.

It seems to me that eating a meal like the luncheon outlined would be a pleasure rather than a hardship. A savory hot soup, an appetizing omelette with crisp bacon and cool tomato garnish, and crunchy zwiebach, satisfying appetite but adding nothing to what weight one already has.

To make the omelette beat an egg with 4 teaspoonfuls of water or skim milk, season lightly with salt and pepper and then pour it into a small skillet in which is a scant teaspoonful of hot butter. Shake over a medium flame until set, roll up and eat immediately.

For the family, these one-egg omelettes are awfully good when served with a garnish of fried oysters. Try the idea some night soon for supper. For each omelette use 3 fried oysters, and if you feel equal to it, French fried potatoes... the family will be sure to rise up and call you blessed.

A QUICK HOT PUDDING

Butter slices of bread, spread with jam or orange marmalade and line the bottom of a casserole. Beat 3 eggs with 2 cups of milk, 1-2 cup sugar, a pinch of salt, and a teaspoon of vanilla. Pour over the bread and bake, with the casserole sitting in a pan of hot water.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Squash Souffle

(6 servings)

2 cups cooked mashed squash
3 egg yolks beaten with
1-2 cup thin cream

2 tablespoons flour sifted with 1 scant teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon, mixed, salt and pepper

3 egg whites beaten stiff.

Heat the squash in a double boiler to make more pliable. Add to it the egg yolks beaten with cream and whip well, then whip in the flour and baking powder and beat with egg beater for a full minute. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, and spread the souffle in a large shallow casserole or pan, well rubbed with butter.

Bake in a fairly quick oven for ten minutes, then reduce the heat and bake 15 minutes longer. Test with a knife, if the blade comes out clean the souffle is done, if not, bake until it does, but be sure the family is on tap, waiting for it. Souffles must be served the instant they are taken out of the oven.

Each of the six portions has a calory value of 135. This souffle could be served in lieu of meat as it has numerous protein units in its innards.

A HOT QUESTION

Dear Ann: Will you please print in your column how hot a wood range oven should be, when a recipe calls for 350 degrees F. When I put a sponge cake in mine at 250 degrees or less, it bakes too quickly.

—M. L. M.
Well, I'm no Mrs. Solomon to solve this puzzle but I would say that it was a matter of cooking instinct to determine by feeling just how hot the oven should be, much as one holds an iron to the cheek to determine its heat. Flour left in oven for 5 minutes should be barely tinged with yellow for the right degree of heat for a sponge cake oven.

WISTERIA FESTIVAL OPENS TOMORROW

SIERRA MADRE, March 17.—The "first of the fiestas," the annual Wisteria festival, at Sierra Madre opens today with leading newspaper editors and writers of Southern California attending a "press preview" under the wide canopy of the giant vine on the old Fennel estate.

The features of the first week of the festival begin Saturday, when Sierra Madre post, American Legion, plays host to Southland posts and their auxiliaries. On Wednesday, there will be the award of a special trophy to the oldest man and oldest woman brought by chambers of commerce that day.

The general public is welcome every day, luncheon and tea are available. There will be no night showings this year. The festival closes April 9.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, March 17.—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. P. Heil entertained as a guest for the day, Mr. Heil's mother, Mrs. E. S. Heil, of Santa Ana, and they were joined for the evening by a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Holclaw and son, of Smelter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clough entertained Irl Hunsacker, of Hollywood, radio singer, as dinner guest in their home Saturday evening.

A birthday anniversary party given for Mrs. Zylpha Williams, former local resident, was attended in Pasadena in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley VanDyke, by the two brothers, O. J. Day and Clyde Day, and their wives.

Recovery of Mrs. Lottie Vogt Eckstine now seems an assured fact, according to a letter received from her sister, Miss Martha Vogt, nurse in the California hospital,

Would you want anything lovelier, more refreshing or smarter to enliven household hours, than the attractive frock sketched today? You'll be intrigued with the revers, one of self fabric and one of contrast, for they're a bit unusual, likewise the comfortable sleeves and simple skirt seaming. See small view for one of Fashion's little tricks. Choose a neat and sprightly cotton print.

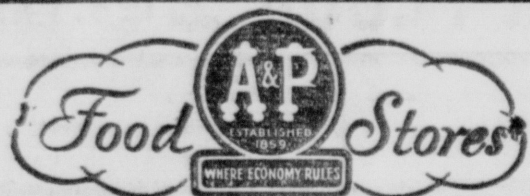

Pattern 2566 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34. Size 16 requires 2 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for this pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

THE SPRING FASHION BOOK contains 32 colorful pages of lovely Paris-inspired models for every Spring need. It shows how to be chic at every hour of the day. Every style is practical, and easy to make. where Mrs. Eckstine has been a patient for two months. A major operation performed February 21 was a success and now Mrs. Eckstine has the use of her limbs which had previously been paralyzed and barring complications she is expected to be able to return home in another month. Mrs. Louis Wendell, of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Goodman and daughter Ann, of Anaheim, were entertained as Sunday guests by Mrs. John M. Angell.

SHELLA SHAYNE, whose parents were well known vaudeville entertainers, is in New York looking for a job. She is a dancer. After much discouragement she is hired to substitute for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained an ankle. While rehearsing at JOE PARIS' song shop, Shella meets TREVOR LANE and DICK STANLEY, rich and socially prominent. Dick urges Lane to include Shella in the program of entertainment at party he is giving. Shella declines. Dick comes to the theater later and persuades her to come.

At the party she meets several celebrities, including GORDON MANDRAKE, well known producer. She meets Dick frequently during the next few days and he tells her Mandrake is interested in her and is going to offer her a part in a play. However, Mandrake does not do so.

In a few weeks Daisy Gleason is able to dance again and Shella is again out of a job. She makes the rounds of the agents' offices without results. Then Mandrake telephones and offers her a part in his new play.

CHAPTER XIII

The part Mandrake offered Shella was a job—but a disappointment as well. The new play, "When Lights Are Low," contained a minor part in which there was an opportunity for specialty dances. There were a few lines, too. Shella didn't mind learning lines but she did—strenuously—object to these.

"How can you look so innocent and say such things?" the juvenile asked her when, at the first rehearsal, Shella stumbled through the part.

Shella nodded and blushed. She was grateful for a friendly word because rehearsal, when parts are first assigned and possibly not permanent, is the coldest spot on earth. She had never seen this juvenile before. He was a young man with striking blond hair. His profile, however, was mainly and clear-cut and his mouth rather sweetly wistful.

Shella shook her wise little head and told herself she hoped the girls wouldn't spoil him. But they would, of course. The first matinee was to bring him a load of mash notes.

"I hope they'll change those lines," Shella told him nervously. "Why don't you ask them to?"

He looked so innocent that Shella decided he was not joking. She was sitting on a scenic rock, swinging her little feet in her tap shoes.

"I guess you are rather new to Broadway, aren't you?" she asked. The young man considered, head bent slightly to one side. "Aren't you?" he countered.

She laughed gayly. "That was the answer I deserved. And my answer to that is, 'Yes' and 'No'. I'm new to a part in a Broadway show but not new by any means to the ways of Broadway. Nor to tramping the streets looking for a job." She shuddered, half in earnest, half playfully. "Even in summer this street's the coldest in the world. Worn shoes, head aching from sleepless nights of worry."

"That must be terrible," he said simply, as one speaking of something he would never personally encounter.

"You mean you don't know how hard it is to find a job?" It was Shella's turn to stare.

"I mean just that. This job found me. I dare say I was lucky—if you look at it that way. Unlucky if you look at it another. If I don't go over big—that is, big enough to warrant staying here in New York—I've sort of spoiled my taste for the village. Don't you think?"

"It depends upon the village," Shella said uncertainly. Was this young man kidding her? Certainly no village youth could have such an air, such self-confidence or such an air, such self-confidence as such a wardrobe. His clothes were expensive, well cut.

"There are two villages. One is New Haven and the other a suburb of Boston."

"And a certain village known as Paris and another called London tossed in!" Shella added.

He laughed gayly. "Is my bitter past as evident as that? I say, let me introduce myself. You are Shella Shayne, I know, for when you were dancing I heard someone say so. Well, my name is Jim Blaine. I suppose they'll change it on the program, provided I ever get that far. That's not flossy enough. Meanwhile I want to call you Shella if I may. So why not try Jim?"

"Oh—Shayne!" a faucous voice interrupted them. "Do you think this is a pink tea? That's your cue?"

"My fault," whispered Jim.

and with them visited "Old Ironsides."

YOUNG ANAHEIM COUPLE TO BE MARRIED SOON

ANAHEIM, March 17.—The engagement of Miss Edith Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stewart of Lora road, to Floyd Hatfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hatfield of North Euclid avenue, was made known Wednesday night at a prenuptial supper given in compliment to Miss Stewart by Miss Ione McMurry of 517 South Los Angeles street. The marriage will be an event of the near future and the new home will be established in San Bernardino.

During the evening informal games of ping pong and jigsaw puzzles were enjoyed followed by the presentation of attractive gifts to the bride elect. The gifts were given her in a beautiful pink and white basket that employed the color scheme used at the supper hour.

The guests were seated at a long table centered with a white bride and groom. The bride wore a pink and white gown and the groom wore a white suit.

Covers were laid for the bride elect and her mother, Mrs. J. B. Stewart and her sisters Mrs. Abilene Montgomery and Miss Mildred Stewart, the hostess, Miss McMurry, the Misses Testa Krams, Meta Krams, Eleanor Marsh, Bessie Renner of Anaheim and Charlotte Head of Buena Park and the Mesdames Cora Halberon of Whittier, Nell Key and W. E. Renner, mother of the hostess.

The bride elect was a graduate of the Anaheim Union High school in 1928 and attended Fullerton junior college. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Fullerton high school and Fullerton Junior college. He is now employed in San Bernardino.

LENTEN SILVER TEA IS GIVEN BY AUXILIARY

ANAHEIM, March 17.—While many social activities have been dispensed with during the lenten season the lenten silver tea given yesterday afternoon by members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Michael's Episcopal church was one of the delightful calendar events of the week.

The Parish hall on North Emory street, with its cheery burnt orange furnishings, was further enhanced with baskets of marigolds and potted palms. Centering the attractive tea table was a large bowl of ranunculi and seated behind the two silver tea services was Mrs. Homer Ames, president, and Mrs. Thomas Lumsden.

An exceptionally entertaining program was arranged by Mrs. Homer Ames, general chairman of the affair, who received the guests assisted by Mrs. W. D. Grafton.

Mrs. Sam Kraemer, Jr., of Placentia read the appropriate lenten drama, "The Servant of the House" by Charles Ramm Kennedy. One of the first of the outstanding dramas this has been famous for many years. As in all of her readings Mrs. Kraemer brought a personal and dramatic touch to the many touching episodes in her performances.

Another charming touch to the program were the two soprano solos rendered by Miss Freda Lumsden, who was accompanied at the piano by Miss Katherine Stewart. She sang "Aria O Sun" by Maude Craske Day and "Oh Hasten Fast Springtime" by Wekerlin. The latter is an eighteenth century French song.

The tea table committee included Mrs. R. W. Balch, Mrs. Thomas Lumsden, Mrs. J. L. Van der Veer and Mrs. Naffziger. The decorating committee was comprised by Mrs. Homer Ames, Mrs. W. D. Grafton and Mrs. Henry Adams.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

Bananas, introduced into western lands within the last 55 years, are said to have been eaten by ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans.

Chicago Bd. of Trade

CHICAGO, March 17.—(UP)—Profits taking selling induced by widespread satisfaction over the farm bill wiped out an early advance of 3 cents a bushel in the wheat pit on the Board of Trade today and sent the market down to net losses of 1/4 to 3/4 cents a bushel.

A general rush to buy wheat shot the market up 3 cents right after the opening gong rang. Selling orders poured into the pit on the rise, however, and there was none of the congestion that was in evidence in yesterday's spectacular session.

Professionals, eager to pocket their paper gains, sold out. Heavy selling orders poured into the pit on the rise, however, and there was none of the congestion that was in evidence in yesterday's spectacular session.

A steady undercurrent of small buying through commission houses prevented a more extended reaction. Corn and oats declined with the major cereal. At the close wheat was 1/4 to 3/4 cents lower, corn was off 1/4 to 3/4 cents and oats 1/4 to 3/4 cents.

FRIDAY, March 17—(Read Psalm 24:1, 11-14)

Waiting is always a test both of faith and patience and there is a deal of waiting in life. Whether we go through it sorely and issue out of it victoriously depends upon what we wait for, and how we wait. The great things always need waiting for. They cannot be hurried. Hopes and plans need waiting for and the outcome of far-reaching ideas and the great fulfillments of life, God needs waiting for. Our haste outruns His providence, we ask from Him the harvests of the soul before they are ripe. But those that wait upon the Lord are never disappointed. The secret of strength and happiness is in timing life to the vast sweep of Divine love and goodness.

Prayer: Grant us, O Lord, that art unshaken and unshakable, to wait upon Thee, not only with patience but with a serene confidence. May we never outrun Thee in our haste nor fall behind Thee in our slowness. Forgive our feverish way and subdue our wills and ways to the revelation of Thy purposes. In His name Who have come to do Thy will, kept equal step with Thee in all things. Amen.

ROCKEFELLER IN FOR THE "NEW DEAL"

The statement of change of policy on the part of the Chase National bank of New York, the largest bank in the world, is heartening. Through its new Chairman of the Board of Directors, Winthrop Aldrich, brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, jr., the announcement has gone forth that the bank will not loose from all its affiliates, and confine itself henceforth only to legitimate commercial banking. It will no longer be a pawn for great financial promoters like the house of Morgan in the flotation of loans and the centralizing of great companies in holding companies.

We cannot resist the belief that Mr. Aldrich is merely voicing the desires of the Rockefellers who own a majority of the stock of that great banking institution. A few years ago, the junior Rockefeller injected himself into the affairs of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which had become entangled with the shady dealings of the groups concerned with the Teapot Dome scandals. Mr. Rockefeller removed the head of that company, and reorganized it on a much more ethical basis. What he did for industry at that time, he seems to be determined to do for banking.

It promises much for the future of the integrity of banking to have behind the movement for a change the powerful Rockefeller interests. Whatever may have been the early policies of the Rockefellers, we believe that the present ideals of that group are resting upon a high ethical basis. Henceforth, as in the recent past, the influence of that powerful group is to be thrown on the side of a higher ethical program.

Let us hope that the efforts of that powerful group, with its determination to enter upon a "new deal", will forever divorce banking from those practices which have undermined the confidence of the whole people of the country in the banks. It has been a costly lesson, but it may have been worth the price if such a crisis as that through which the country has been passing the past two weeks will never again recur.

It's probably unnecessary to point out that when senators talk of cutting expenses they don't refer to the $7000 annually paid the five Senate barbers.

THE CASE OF THE LEAS
IN TENNESSEE

Lord Broughman is credited with the statement that there was never a law made which would prevent a shrewd lawyer from driving through it with a coach and six.

This statement is very applicable to the case of the Leas in Tennessee.

The Leas were arrested and placed in jail Tuesday. Colonel Lea and his son were convicted in Asheville in August, 1931. Luke Lea was once a Senator of the United States from the state of Tennessee. For years he has controlled a number of the influential newspapers of the region. He is connected by marriage with the Caldwell, a family of financial power. The motto of the house of Caldwell, seen on countless bill-boards through the South, was "We Bank on the South." Then the house of Caldwell crashed in the debacle of 1929, and Luke Lea and his son went down with the house. Prominent socially, as well as financially, there are few in the South who will do them reverence.

The Leas escaped from the laws of Tennessee, but North Carolina had a reckoning with them. The state clamped the law upon the elder Lea, and he was convicted and sentenced to ten years in prison. The case dragged along through all the courts, and the conviction was finally affirmed by the United States Supreme Court. The Governor of North Carolina demanded extradition. The request was honored by the Governor of Tennessee. But while the Leas were at large, playing golf in Clarksville, ready to be arrested, the complications of the law are such that no one dares to lay hand upon them lest the ruling of some minor court, under the law of habeas corpus, may set them free.

Public opinion in the South is against the Leas, but so intricate were the law's delays and the law's evasions, that Luke Lea and his son played golf openly in Clarksville, flinging defiance at the authorities of two sovereign states.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

The banking crisis through which the country has been passing may recall for the historian those hectic days when Andrew Jackson fought the bankers to a standstill. The campaign of 1828 was for all the world like the campaign which ended in the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt. The great newspapers, the clergy, federal office-holders, manufacturers, and bankers were hotly in favor of re-electing John Quincy Adams. Against this combination was marshaled the farmers, especially those burdened with debt, and the mechanics of the towns, shouting their hurrahs for Jackson. When the votes were counted, it revealed the fact that the only electoral votes cast for Adams came from New England, and not all of those. Jackson carried the rest of the Union, making a clean sweep of the South and of the West.

Jackson had not the suave or the cultural background of Franklin Roosevelt. But in many other respects they were very similar. The direct inaugural message of Roosevelt might as fitly have come from the lips of Jackson. Jackson, too, called the bankers as Roosevelt did. It was a bitter fight, but Jackson won out, and gave us the first national banking system. Fortunately, Roosevelt may not have to fight as Jackson did. The country is behind the President of today. A higher ethical standard is abroad, and those bankers who have abused their powers have fled from the temple of finance. So much has been gained.

But what a pity that these battles have to be fought over again and again. The encouraging factor in comparing the two situations is, that while the wreck of mismanagement is all around us, the ethical standards are so much higher today that the correction of abuse is much easier.

OHIO WRITES ON EARTHQUAKES

A newspaper in Youngstown, Ohio, trying to make its readers feel good, amidst intense cold that, coming at this time of the year, must have injured the budding fruit trees, says: If there are any who in the biting cold of the last few days wished they were in California instead of northern Ohio, they may be thinking differently now. The rough weather... is less to be feared than the earthquakes which put the people of a considerable portion of California... in danger of their lives. ...Northern Ohio, during the months to come, will have beauty of a kind California cannot equal.

We remember a spring day in northern Ohio. It was just after a hurricane which swept over the lake and concentrated at greatest destruction at Lorain, Ohio. The earthquake havoc even in Long Beach did not compare in devastation with that hurricane. Every tree in the little park was cut clear away. Homes and buildings in its path were as flat as the proverbial pancake. We visited the city on the day following, as we visited Long Beach. We saw Governor Donahey going about the wreckage investigating, as Governor Rolph went about Long Beach. The people were stunned. The proportion of injured was not so great as in Long Beach because anyone who was in the path of that hurricane didn't live to receive medical aid. We don't remember the number of dead but we do remember one of the problems was to get enough coffins.

Experience counsels that California even if it had as many quakes as Japan would be a desirable place to live.

The Old House is Down

Del Norte (Colo.) Prospector

Our financial house has been in need of repairs for some time. The last tenants were hard on the property. A couple of weeks ago the ceiling started falling off, so President Roosevelt, Sunday, decided to close the place and we are going to have a new structure.

The Insulls, Kreugers, the crooked New York bankers and all the other money changers who have been mixed up in skulduggery have been given notice to clear out by the new president and the American people.

The gangsters are gentlemen compared to this crowd of swindlers calling themselves bankers and brokers.

The great body of American business men and bankers are honest and sincere, but the big crooks in high places have taken the American people for a "ride" to the tune of billions. Justice will overtake them and it will be "easier" for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for them to be respected among honest men. It is a spring house cleaning and the American people will do a good job.

Congress met yesterday to lay the foundation for the new house and soon workmen will be busy building a 1933 model.

With every bank in the nation closed by executive order the American people are taking the situation good humoredly and making plans to carry on business with scrip and other ways until we can move into the new house.

Mr. Woodin, the capable new secretary of the treasury says of the bank holiday: "This is the start of the real thing. I think we are on the bottom. We will not go lower."

As far as Del Norte is concerned our people feel that we know where we are and can build from here. There is every indication that farm produce will bring a better price this summer and fall.

President Roosevelt said in his inaugural address that, "there must be provision for an adequate but sound currency." That must mean that something will be done with silver. We understand that already some of the mines at Crode are soon to be put in readiness to dig the white metal and that will put this section of Colorado in the running at an early date.

But the best thing of all, however, about this crisis, is that the American people are of one mind and are showing a united spirit on every front. "The fear of fear," that the President spoke of in his first message after being sworn in as the chief executive, has not had much of a chance with the people. They are simply going into battle under the President's command to give old man depression a knock-out.

If Things Keep On—

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

CRACKERS AND CHEESE

When the trout will not rise,
Though you dabble the brook
With the choicest of flies
You can find in your book;
When the wind rises higher
And a longing you feel
For a seat by the fire
And a good home-cooked meal.
You can take in your line
And repose at your ease
While you happily dine
Upon crackers and cheese.

Plain fare they may be
To the man in the mart—
An addict is he
To the restaurant carte.
But when weary and spent
You need never despair;
You can find calm content
In the plainest of fare.
Stretch out on the moss
'Neath the whispering trees,
With hunger for sauce
And your crackers and cheese.

No waiter stands by,
Haughty critic, to cast
A cold fishy eye
On your humble repast.
The brook softly purrs
And a stray partridge comes
With a couple of squirrels
To gather the crumbs.
More tonic than wine
Is the breath of the breeze
When you sit down to dine
On plain crackers and cheese.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

A recent editorial was entitled: "Secretaries of The Treasury Do What?" We know the answer, They sit up nights and guard the deficit so nobody can steal it.

The liquor industry, at present, is not prosperous. The bootleggers have produced too much synthetic Scotch and the depression has produced too many synthetic Scotchmen.

IN THE OLD DAYS YOU KNEW A FAMILY'S SOCIAL RATING BY THE TIN CANS IN THE ALLEY INSTEAD OF THE ONE PARKED IN FRONT.

Two tuneful ballads that Ed Wynn overlooked: The avenue song—"Avenue Seen My Girl" and the woodcutter's song—"I Loved Her the Minute I Cedar."

Heard on a bus: "He's thinking of getting married to a widow with five children—if you call that thinking."

Mr. Roosevelt made a lifelong friend of every paragraph in the country when he put that Woodin man in the Cabinet.

AMERICANISM: Hysterically withdrawing bank funds every time some one yells "Boo"; wondering at the same time, why the financial structure is out of balance.

Income: Something we can't live within or without. A leading Technocrat claims that their system, if given a fair chance, would "work just like a charm." That's telling it. We all know how a charm works.

Here's hoping that Mr. Roosevelt's middle name will bring us luck and that Prosperity will Delano longer in turning the corner.

ANOTHER WAY TO SPEND AN EXCITING EVENING AT HOME IS TO TRY TO FIGURE OUT THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE HALF-EMPTY BOTTLES IN THE MEDICINE CHEST.

We'll be seeing it soon. The farm problem solved. "Mr. Hoozit Rents 100-Acre Tract To Lay Out Billion-Piece Jigsaw Puzzle." Prediction: In the not-too-distant future you'll be able to drop a penny into a slot and pull out a divorce decree with your weight and fortune printed on the back.

We met a man last week who didn't claim the Wolf was at his door. Yes, really. He simply said, "I'm in a delicate state of wealth."

A recent headline: "Vic Yodels In His Sleep; Neighbors Complain." Eats too much Swiss cheese, probably.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "BOO-HOO" WEPT LITTLE WILLIE. "EVERYTHING'S GONE WRONG AROUND HERE. THE BATHTUB IS BUSTED, MY CASTOR-OIL BOTTLE IS EMPTY AND MA FORGOT TO BUY THE SPINACH."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

STERILIZED CURRENCY

Yesterday I presented current figures to indicate that there is more money technically in circulation now than in many periods of prosperous business activity, and suggested that in view of this fact there is little to support the contention that we need currency inflation.

It is true of course that all of the money technically in circulation is not actually in circulation but may be hoarded to varying degrees, and thus sterilized so far as any effect on raising prices is concerned. I suggest, however, that whatever part of the money now technically in circulation has been sterilized by hoarding has been sterilized, not by any shortage of currency, but, as I said last week, because the hoarders have lacked that confidence in the economic future which would force their money into actual circulation and so register a healthy effect on the price level.

Between the end of last December and the middle of January there was a drop of some $74,000,000 in money in circulation in the United States.

Competent analysts ascribed this temporary drop to the normal drop in trade from the abnormal trade of the holiday season.

This illustrates what seems to me an inescapable fact, namely, that the volume of money in active circulation is more dependent upon the volume of business than the volume of business is dependent upon the volume of money in technical circulation.

In other words, whenever we have, as we now have, an adequate supply of currency technically in circulation but find that the amount of money actually in business circulation is inadequate, the conclusion seems to me unavoidable that the key to recovery is to increase the national confidence rather than to increase the national currency.

About the only ways in which fresh supplies of currency can be got into the hands of the unemployed or of those whose purchasing power has drastically declined are through direct relief, loans and public works, but, as I said last week, until popular confidence in the economic future is restored, currency forced out through even these valid channels will, after being spent once, be subject to the same paralyzing process of hoarding and withholding from active circulation to which the existing currency supply is being subjected.

THE BABY'S DOCTOR

The baby comes into the world with the doctor's help. He stays in this world under his wise and kindly ministrations. Few children come through their infancy without some mishap. They catch the measles, they have hives, they run uncontrollable temperatures, they stop growing and lose weight, something or other happens to cause the mother and father alarm. The doctor has to come.

Do you send for the baby's own doctor or do you call in somebody else? Perhaps your neighbor says, "When George had stomach trouble I had Dr. Wise and he brought him right out of it. Take my advice and send for him. He's fine."

Take mine and don't Dr. Wise may have known all about that other baby. No doubt that he did. But what does he know about this baby of yours compared with the doctor who knew him before he was born and who helped him in arriving? That's the man you want. Not a stranger, if you can possibly help it.

It takes time to know the ways of a baby. No two are quite alike. They won't even have whooping cough in the same fashion. The doctor has to study his baby patient. Babies can't describe their symptoms. They can't tell the doctor that he is making a mistake and will have to guess again. They have to consume their wrath in howls and kicks and moanings. By and by the strange physician will discover the trouble and the peculiar reactions of this ailing child and fix him up. The doctor who knows him could have helped him sooner and time is important when a baby is ill.

Little children dread strangers. They know when a strange voice speaks to them. They recoil at the touch of a strange hand. Their fear is increased by illness and that too, stands in the way of the strange doctor. He has to win his way to the child and that is not done in the space of a sick call. It takes time to know a baby.

Pick the baby's doctor with grave care. Do the searching and questioning before the baby gets here and then, having picked your man, cling to him through fair days and foul weather. The doctor you know is better for your baby than those you don't know.

When he needs help he will tell you and introduce the stranger to the baby himself. But that happens rarely when your selection has been thoughtful in the first place.

People are well meaning especially where ailing children are under consideration. They want to help. They know a good medicine, they know it is good because it worked for their children. They know their doctor is the best in the world. He has proved it in caring for their children. But what has that to do with the man who has been all that and more to your child? Why isn't he the best in the world to you?

It is not wise to give the children medicine that has been prescribed for another child. Not even when it is as simple a thing as lemon juice. Wait until the baby's own doctor comes and see what he says about it. Specialists are a godsend in time of need but the family physician is the household angel.

Time To Smile

'T WAS SHOCKING

A professor, of absent-minded habits, fell in love with a young graduate and married her.

They went on their honeymoon and in the morning the professor awoke, looked at the other occupant of the bedroom, and said in a shocked and incredulous voice:

"Miss Grey, what are you doing here?"—Tit-Bits.

HOW ABOUT NOW?

In the smoking room of a club, two business men just passed middle age were criticizing the young men of today.

Said one, "Look how reluctant young men are to marry, and settle down."

"That's so," replied the other. "They seem a fear marriage. Why before I was married I didn't know the meaning of fear."—Tit-Bits.

THE ONE AND ONLY

"My first tour began at Stocum," related the pantomime comedian, "and I remember singing songs of my own composing."

"Was the audience complimentary?" inquired his friend.

"I cannot tell you that," was the answer, "but I remember his ticket was."—Tit-Bits.
